

Monks Threaten New Showdown With Ky Regime

SAIGON AP — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military government alerted troops of its elite 7th Infantry Division today to stand by in case of Buddhist rioting in Saigon. Two battalions—about 1,000 men—were reported moving in from the south.

GIs Locked In Fierce Skirmish

Kill 28 Regulars, Are Outnumbered

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Outnumbered U.S. air cavalrymen threw reinforcements today into a fierce battle with North Vietnamese regulars near the central coast of Viet Nam.

The cavalrymen killed 28 of the strongly entrenched Communist force during the opening six-hour fight Monday and took moderate casualties themselves, the U.S. command reported.

Continuing Today
A spokesman said the engagement was continuing today 35 miles northwest of coastal Qui Nhon and 275 miles northeast of Saigon.

It was the only reported ground action of any size in the Viet Nam war, and continuing monsoon rains once again cut sharply into the American air offensive over North Viet Nam.

B52s Hit Again
U.S. Air Force B52 bombers, flying above the weather at 40,000 feet, struck for a third successive day at the same target near the Cambodian border. The eight-engine planes, coming from Guam, bombed a Viet Cong troops base and storage area 70 miles north of Saigon in Binh Long Province.

Also along the Cambodian border, the U.S. 1st Infantry Division ended Operation Birmingham and reported taking a huge haul of enemy supplies during the 24-day search and destroy campaign. A military spokesman said it was the largest seizure of Viet Cong base camps and supplies of the last six months and possibly of the war.

In the fighting northwest of Qui Nhon, about 150 American air cavalrymen took on what was thought to be a North Vietnamese platoon Monday afternoon.

Hint Soviet Mortars
A U.S. spokesman said the Communists were well camouflaged and dug-in, and probably equipped with Soviet 120mm mortars, the largest type used by the Communists which the Soviets have supplied only in recent months.

The spokesman said the U.S. company of helicopter-lifted troops took moderate casualties against what later was estimated to be a North Vietnamese battalion—about 350 men. Another company of cavalrymen was sent in. The fighting broke off Monday night after six hours but resumed today with more American reinforcements taking part.

The spokesman said the North Vietnamese unit was located Sunday by a local group of Vietnamese militiamen. He said (Continued on Page 12, Col. 5)

The Buddhist hierarchy hurled charges of treason and murder against the regime. Monks in Saigon's main pagoda said they planned to start a 48-hour hunger strike Thursday. In the northern provinces, others said they would give their lives if necessary to force the government to end its crackdown on that part of the country.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Buddhist leaders threatened a showdown with Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military regime today, pledging to give their lives if necessary to force the government to end its crackdown in the northern part of the country.

Troops Also Resist
As the junta faced the political peril of a new round of fiery suicides by monks, dissident troops of the army's 1st Corps also kept up their resistance to the government.

A soldier in Hue fired two pistol shots at a U.S. helicopter carrying the new Vietnamese commander of the 1st Corps, Maj. Gen. Huynh Van Cao, and the U.S. Marine chief of staff in Viet Nam, Brig. Gen. Jonas M. Platt, on a mission to win over dissident officers of the Vietnamese 1st Army Division.

No one aboard the helicopter was hurt, but a gunner returned the fire and killed the soldier. Earlier erroneous reports said Lt. Gen. Lewis W. Walt, the U.S. Marine commander in Viet Nam, was aboard the helicopter.

While the Hue radio continued its antigovernment broadcasts, only an occasional shot was heard in Da Nang, 50 miles to the south, where 2,500 Vietnamese marines and paratroops sent north by Ky Sunday tried to extend their hold on the main northern trouble spot.

Control Most of City
Government marines moved toward east Da Nang but without dread when they ran into strong rebel forces. The marines controlled most of the city, but antigovernment forces moved into a third Buddhist pagoda and blocked traffic in the area. The two pagodas they already held were being used as rallying points.

Award Contracts For Ulster and Greene Road Jobs

Two contract awards have been announced by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for road work in Ulster and Greene Counties, it was learned today.

To Improve 209
One was for $182,000 to the Callanan Road Improvement Company of South Bethlehem for improvement of a section of Route 209 in Ulster.

This project will extend from just south of the south end of the Kingston Bypass southwestly 2.86 miles to the south of Marlborough.

The 20-foot wide pavement, scheduled for completion by Nov. 1, will be widened to 22 feet and resurfaced with asphalt concrete.

All work will be under the supervision of M. Nicholas Sinacori, district engineer in charge of the Department of public works district office in Poughkeepsie.

Other for Rt. 32 Job

BALKED SECOND TIME — Today's scrub of the Gemini 9 launch after the Agena target satellite failed to achieve orbit, was the second similar disappointment for Thomas P. Stafford, right, shown here with Eugene A. Cernan during their countdown rehearsal on May 11. The three days in space attempt, for the astronauts was postponed for at least two weeks. U.S. Will Support Viet Military Rule

WASHINGTON (AP) — Johnson administration leaders, after two days of intensive consultations on the Viet Nam crisis, have agreed to support a strong Vietnamese military role in any future Saigon government.

But, high officials made clear Monday, this decision does not indicate a personal endorsement of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

Air Ulster Road Woes With State

Discuss Arterial, Drainage, Control

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson of Ulster County and Supervisor Thaddeus Musialkiewicz of the Town of Ulster said today they met recently with M. N. Sinacori, District Engineer for the New York State Department of Public Works, to discuss various highway problems in the town. These problems included the improvement of Route 32, the proposed arterial route from the City of Kingston, drainage along Albany Avenue Extension, and traffic control on Route 28 and Albany Avenue.

Note Flow of Traffic
The local Assemblyman and Supervisor said the increase in the flow of traffic along Route 32 north of the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge demands that the present road be widened, and that several dangerous curves be eliminated. The District Engineer informed Wilson and Musialkiewicz that Route 32 in that area was considered a secondary road, and that normally the State would not have planned any major reconstruction there for at least eight to ten years, but that under a new emergency highway safety program instituted by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, the Department might now be able to begin work on the mile and a half section in question as early as 1969.

The dangerous condition along Route 199 west of the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge also was discussed, and Assemblyman Wilson and Supervisor Musialkiewicz said a serious traffic hazard exists where the highway widens to four lanes at Route 9W, and they were assured that the continuation of the four-lane highway towards the bridge is now under consideration, and would be completed as soon as the necessary funds can be made available.

Assured of Public Hearing
The District Engineer was also informed of the problems surrounding the proposed Kingston Arterial Route as it relates to the Town of Ulster, and Assemblyman Wilson and Supervisor Musialkiewicz were informed that there would be a public hearing on the entire matter before any definite plans were made. The question was also raised concerning any possible drainage problems along Albany Avenue where the arterial route is completed, and the District Engineer said that provision has already been made for the installation of a drainage system along Albany Avenue, from Flatbush Avenue in the City of Kingston to the intersection with the Route 9-W By-Pass.

Traffic Survey Considered
Assemblyman Wilson and Supervisor Musialkiewicz also brought up the problem of traffic control signal in the Town, and cited the many requests from area residents for some means of traffic control on Albany Avenue Extension and on Route 28 west (Continued on Page 12, Col. 2)

Delay Mission For Two Weeks After Failure

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The launching of the Gemini 9 astronauts on a rendezvous and space-walk mission was postponed today for at least two weeks when their Agena target satellite failed to achieve orbit.

An Atlas rocket blazed away from Cape Kennedy at 11:15 a.m. (EDT) to propel the Agena into space. But eight minutes later, mission director William C. Schneider reported:

'Lose Agena Bird'
"We have lost the Agena bird. We don't know exactly what happened to it. The Gemini will not fly today."

He then scrubbed the launch of Gemini 9 pilots Thomas P. Stafford and Eugene A. Cernan, who were to have spent three days in space practicing maneuvers essential to Apollo man-to-the-moon trips.

For Stafford, it was the second similar disappointment. He and Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr. were in the Gemini 6 spacecraft last Oct. 25 and had their mission postponed when their Agena target satellite exploded six minutes after liftoff.

Astros Show Disappointment
"Oh, shucks," was Stafford's reaction on hearing of the failure.

"Oh, no! Oh, no!" moaned Cernan.

Stafford said: "You can't get you hopes up until that Agena gets across the States," he referred to the fact that the Titan 2 would have been launched after the Agena had gone around the globe once and was again over Cape Kennedy.

During their three days in space, they were to have practiced several rendezvous and docking techniques with the Agena, attempted space rescue missions, fired the Agena engines to change orbits, and Cernan was to have made a record 2-hour, 25-minute space walk.

Cabs Roll As Strike Ends Today

NEW YORK (AP) — The five-day taxicab drivers' strike is over and full service today by the city's 11,000-odd metered cabs was promised.

Mayor John V. Lindsay, mediator in the dispute between the drivers and owners of taxicab fleets, announced the agreement to resume service Monday night.

Keep Taxis Rolling
He said both sides had agreed to keep the taxis rolling while they tried to work out an agreement on how much commission the fleet drivers are to receive on fares.

If they have not agreed on a commission rate by 5 p.m. Wednesday, Lindsay will take over as arbitrator and recommend a figure. He said both sides had agreed to accept it.

Negotiators for the 85 fleet garages and the 21,000-member AFL-CIO Taxi Drivers Organizing Committee agreed to accept the mayor's recommendations during a 22-hour session at City Hall.

Fleet cab drivers have been getting either 44 or 45 per cent of the fares they collected, depending upon the owner. They demanded 50 per cent.

Tips Would Increase
A considerable part of the drivers' income is from tips. The drivers' union estimates that each one-cent increase in commission is worth about 30 cents a day to the average driver who logs about $30.

Lindsay said other issues remained in dispute, but the owners and drivers were "close enough in agreement so that the conclusion of this strike does not depend on them."

There are 6,816 fleet-owned cabs. In addition, 4,900 cabs are driven by their owners. About half of the owner-operated cabs were idle during the strike—mostly in sympathy with the fleet drivers. No more than 2,500 cabs were in action during the strike, which started Wednesday night.

Police received reports of 47 incidents of violence—none serious—during the strike.

Accepts Decision
Harry Van Arsdale Jr., president of the AFL-CIO City Central Labor Council and sponsor of the taxi drivers' union, said the union's 240-man wage and policy committee agreed Monday afternoon to accept the mayor's decision. He said the acceptance was tantamount to a membership ratification.

There was an unofficial report that Lindsay's proposal for the fleet drivers was 46 per cent of the receipts, with an additional 2 per cent as a bonus to regular drivers. The mayor said no figure had been agreed upon.

Lindsay said he will make recommendations on issues in addition to the commission rate if the owners and drivers fail to agree by the deadline Wednesday.

Return of the taxicabs was particularly welcome to airline passengers. Carey Transportation Inc. limousines and buses, which take passengers between the airports and midtown terminals since May 6, Service from owner-operated cabs that rolled during the taxi strike was hardly enough to handle plane passengers.

School Safe 'Peeled'

Local police today began probe of an attempted safe cracking at the Meagher School, Wynkoop Place. Entrance was gained by the breaking of a lock on a side window. The safe was reported "partly peeled." Nothing was reported missing from the building and it had not been ransacked.

Grope for Cures Amid New Fury on Medicare

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The sound and the fury of angry physicians, hospital administrators and county welfare commissioners rose without letup today against the state's new medical-aid plan.

At the same time, the state's legislators fearfully contemplated the critical onslaught and sought ways to alleviate political repercussions from the plan to pay medical bills for residents unable to afford them.

In Albany, Dr. Thomas Hale, director of the 800-bed Albany Medical Center Hospital, warned that persons who are ineligible for financial assistance under state and federal medical aid plans could expect to pay higher prices for hospital care.

Hale added Monday that hospital costs would be greater for everyone after the plans go into effect.

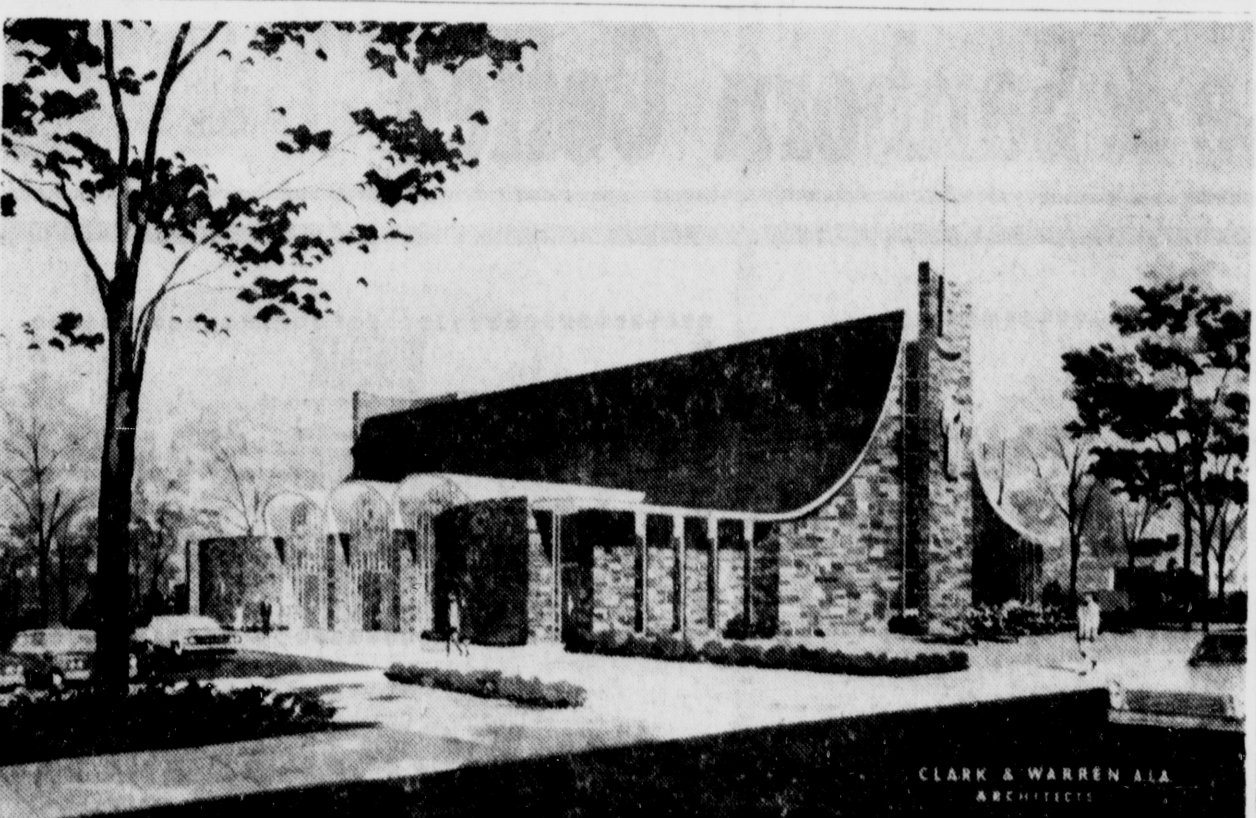

"But those who are responsible for paying their own bills will probably pay more because Medicare and state-aided plans probably will be paying less than their actual cost."

In Monday's developments across the state:

—The 91-member graduating class of the State University at Buffalo medical school called for repeal of the plan. In a unanimous vote, the senior-year medical students also recommended that the Legislature listen to the "advice of the medical profession."

—The Tonawanda city council and the Amherst town board both voted unanimously to ask the Legislature to delay implementation of the law or rescind it altogether.

—William P. Wade, Rensselaer County Welfare Commissioner, called for an immediate meeting of state groups and local welfare commissioners to coordinate the program, mired, (Continued on Page 12, Col. 6)

NEW ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH—Architects drawings of the new proposed St. Joseph's Church released today by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John J. O'Reilly, pastor, reveal a contemporary church design which utilizes a stone work reminiscent of Dutch architecture prominent in the area. Three romanesque arches will serve as the church's main entrance on Main Street. Stained glass windows will grace the entrance as well as other sides of the structure. A curved wall of stone, 38 feet high, on the Wall Street side will hold a relief statue of St. Joseph, patron saint of the parish. Behind this is another curved wall which will surround the altar area. The new church will seat between 600 and 700 people. A small parking area will be installed in front of the church to accommodate weddings, funerals and provide limited parking. The current building fund drive for $400,000 will be stepped up the next several weeks to raise the needed balance of $65,000. Architects are Clark and Warren of Poughkeepsie.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON Ap Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Spending for education is going up. Business is spending more in the booming education market. And many a firm is pretty happy about the results and prospects.

Twofold Investment

Industry's investment in education is twofold. First is the growing volume of grants for research and scholarships and outright gifts, now running around $250 million a year. Second is the entry of hitherto outsiders into the education field as suppliers or partners.

Both approaches bring results. Research and scholarships fertilize the field from which business harvests future products and management. The second venture, teaming up to supply needs popping up in an age of pressure for more educational facilities and supplies, looks like a profitable venture to an increasing number of established business firms in other fields.

The roster is a long one. Just as big is the opportunity—and still growing. Education-oriented firms have been prospering right along with the striking growth in the number seeking more education and training. They include textbook publishers, furniture makers, athletic equipment providers. But recently companies with quite different origins and activities have been linking up with those already in the field.

Mergers of acquisitions of firms already in the school and college supply business have blossomed fast in recent months. Some companies also have set up joint ventures to enter the field. Others have formed new companies or subsidiaries to meet a newly apparent need. International Telephone & Telegraph plans to merge with Howard W. Sams & Co., a publisher and printer of books, magazines, training and reference services. Radio Corp. of America has acquired Random House, a publishing house that foresees a revolution in education in the next 10 years. International Business Machines took over Science Research Associates, a publisher of educational materials and psychological tests.

With 4.5 million enrolled in U.S. colleges today—and enrollment expected to double by 1973 or 1974—education is looking more and more like a prime business venture.

Dear Abby . . .

Back to the 'Sir' Business Again

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You let me down. You quoted Amy Vanderbilt as saying that when a secretary addresses a male visitor of her boss, if he is of the "same distinguished mien" as her boss, she should address him as "sir," if she doesn't know his name.

But she should never address a delivery boy as "sir." How could you let her get away with such snobbishness? I know some delivery boys who are deserving of far more respect than some of the "distinguished" characters who visit my boss.

NO SNOB IN L. A.

DEAR ABBY: I am a secretary, and I call all males who come into this office "sir," if I do not know their names. I don't care if he's a delivery boy or a corporation president. I treat every man as tho he were a gentleman unless I find out he isn't. You can't tell anything about a man by the way he's dressed, either.

I have known well-dressed men to be foul-mouthed and vulgar. And some of the shabbiest attired are kind, courteous and considerate, which makes them gentlemen in my book. Perhaps I am not up on my etiquette, but I don't consider myself any less a lady for it.

MR. ERLICH'S SECRETARY

DEAR ABBY: I hope you don't go along with Amy Vanderbilt's dictum that a lady NEVER uses "sir," alone to attract a man's attention? If so, how do you suggest one gains the attention of a clerk who is standing several yards away with his back towards her? Is she supposed to shout, "HEY YOU!" Or perhaps, "MISTER!"

I think one should address all males whose names they do not know as "sir." And we should allow them to live in blissful ignorance unaware of the social errors they have committed.

A COUNTRY GIRL

DEAR ABBY: I wish you would pass this on to your good friend, (Amy Vanderbilt, that is), to whom you referred as the "Supreme Court of Etiquette." I quit looking at etiquette years ago when I realized they did nothing but perpetuate a lot of stupid, snobbish, archaic rules of so-called "socially acceptable behavior."

Who on earth cares which fork is used for the salad as long as it gets to one's mouth without soiling the tablecloth? And if I reply in the affirmative to a wedding invitation, who is to say that I have replied "improperly" unless I use the ridiculous third person form; for example: "Mr. Clinton DeWitt Flusherfuller accepts with pleasure"

Dr. and Mrs. Hackenbush's kind invitation for Tuesday, the 10th of April at noon

I think it's high time someone rewrote the book of etiquette, and based it on common sense and courtesy. As it stands, it's a three-hundred-year-old joke!

CONFIDENTIAL TO "FIFTH GENERATION AMERICAN WITH BREEDING" IN BOSTON, MASS.: I don't know what your definition of "breeding" is, but I like JONATHAN SWIFT'S: "Good manners is the art of making those people easy with whom we converse. Whoever makes the fewest people uneasy is the best bred in the company."

Asks Deactivation Curb

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Armed Services subcommittee wants the Defense Department to temporarily abandon plans to deactivate Air National Guard and Air Force Reserve units.

Deactivation plans should be deferred, the subcommittee report said, "until the Southeast Asia conflict is successfully resolved and until a thorough study of tactical airlift requirements for limited war is completed and approved by the Air Force and Department of Defense."

Tax Collection Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department publishes today the final regulations for collecting personal income and Social Security taxes from employers twice a month instead of monthly.

The regulations contain no basic change from those announced last month, the department says. But they have been modified to include a four-month transition period.

To Head Off Price Hikes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration now is trying to head off individual price increases rather than force industries to rescind them after the price hike has been made.

Officials are consulting with industries facing cost pressures and coordinating efforts of federal agencies to break the bottlenecks responsible.

Plan Rest Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon officials are planning to expand "rest and recuperation" programs for the troops in Viet Nam.

Servicemen in that Southeast Asian country now are entitled to a seven-day leave outside the country during their one-year tour of duty. They usually are sent to Japan, the Philippines, Thailand, Formosa and Hong Kong.

But now they may be flown back to Hawaii for a rest. Other countries outside of Viet Nam also may be added to the furlough list.

Still Probing Ike's Arthritic Condition

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doctors say they have not yet fully defined the arthritic condition that has kept former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in a hospital for nearly two weeks.

"Gen. Eisenhower is undergoing treatment for arthritis and is receiving physical therapy and medication," said a medical bulletin issued Monday by Eisenhower's doctors at the Army's Walter Reed General Hospital.

"Investigation is still being conducted to further define the arthritic condition," the bulletin added.

Doctors declined to amplify on Monday's bulletin.

Check Ship Blazes

OGDENSBURG, N.Y. (AP) — A Norwegian cargo ship rammed a fuel barge being towed by a tug today in the St. Lawrence Seaway, causing an explosion and fire on both vessels.

No one was reported injured. The fires were quickly extinguished by the crews.

The Coast Guard said the Bjorgsund, a 560-foot motor tanker going toward the ocean, struck the barge and tug, the Harriet Moran of New York City, as the latter moved up the Seaway toward Oswego.

State Driver Education Group Names Clearwater

Harvey E. Clearwater, son of Mrs. Velma Clearwater, 3 Harrington Street, New Paltz, driver education teacher at Shaker School, Latham, was elected president of the Driver and Safety Educators Association of New York State at the tenth annual conference of the association held in Glens Falls. Clearwater succeeded Louis J. Frani of New Hartford.

Resolutions asking for federal funds for the expansion of high school driver education become part of President Johnson's bill to set safety standards automobile manufacturers, and an urgent request to the New York State Senate Committee on transportation and motor vehicles to report Bill S. 1438 — to eliminate the junior operators license in New York State and allow those who successfully complete an approved high school driver education course to be licensed at age 17 were among those passed by the annual assemblage.

Dr. Thomas Seals, associate of the National Commission on Safety Education and Dr. Basil Scott, administrative officer of the New York State Department of Motor Vehicles expressed concern that the current publicity on auto safety might cause the public to lose sight of the need for education of the driver who remains the key factor in automobile safety.

Workshop sessions covering: Alcohol education, enforcement, vehicle safety and engineering and motorcycling, were held for the conference participants. Over 200 high school driver education teachers attended the luncheon where a history of the driver education movement in New York State, beginning with the first course offered in Saugerties in 1935, and ending with the current association activities on behalf of high school driver education was reviewed. Also honored were the pioneers of driver education in New York State.

Hospitals Turn Away Non-Emergency Cases

NEW YORK (AP) — The city's 21 municipal hospitals still were turning away all non-emergency patients today in a rush effort to reduce caseloads by Monday when 1,480 nurses have threatened to resign.

Six upstate hospitals stood ready to accept between 140 and 160 tuberculosis patients from the Bronx Municipal Hospital Center.

The only hope for preventing the scheduled May 23 resignations over nurses' salary demands appears to lie with mediator George Moskowit, who is expected to offer settlement recommendations today.

Scores Senators In Constitutional Delegate's Race

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A Manhattan assemblyman says it would be "sheer political buffoonery" for U.S. Senators Jacob K. Javits and Robert F. Kennedy to compete for election as a delegate to the State Constitutional Convention.

Democrat Daniel M. Kelly said Monday that neither senator could afford the time away from Washington to attend the April 1967 convention.

"To have members of Congress shuttle back and forth from Washington is utterly ridiculous what with all the problems facing the nation."

Kelly added, during a radio interview, that all members of Congress should decline to run for delegate.

Kelly, sometimes called "the conscience of the Legislature" for his campaign for a stronger code of ethics for lawmakers, said that he was confident that his ethics measures would be approved by the Senate.

The bills, which were passed by the Assembly, are locked up in Senate committee, and the Senate Republican leadership has let it be known that they would die in the committee.

In a letter Monday to Gov. Rockefeller, Kelly asked for the governor's support of his measures, which would create a State Ethics Commission and would prohibit legislators from practicing law for a fee before most state agencies.

CHAMBER MEMBERSHIP

The Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce is vital to the welfare of the community because of its program to meet the present challenge of expansion. However, if we are to have an effective organization, the Chamber must have adequate membership and genuine support.

If more people took a good look at the Chamber of Commerce and really understood its purpose and function, there would be a much larger membership. The voluntary effort of local citizens working through the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce is the most effective force for improving all aspects of the local economy. A remarkable diversity of interests comprises the Chamber's program of activities.

The well-being of a community is measured by the attitudes of its people, its spirit, its faith and its desire to make this area better. It isn't difficult for some people to continuously find fault with the community. And there are those people who indulge in such a tendency. These are the skeptics who never give a helping hand, but are always eager to complain. These people never did help a community get anywhere.

Now is the time to make the most of our assets. Sign up during Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce membership campaign and join with the forces of civic-minded citizens in a collective effort to promote the welfare of the area.

DIRKSEN'S ACCIDENT

Senator Dirksen's broken hip is more than a personal misfortune. This accident, which will keep him more or less out of action for some weeks, also is a blow to the prospects for reconciliation of opposing political views in Congress.

This applies in particular, though not exclusively, to the administration's new civil rights proposal. In the recent past, Senator Dirksen has been a tower of strength in the area of civil rights by helping to compromise differences. Without him, previous civil rights bills might not have passed.

Though Dirksen has been opposed to the administration on the current bill, there was a good chance that some accommodation could be worked out. The chance has been reduced. Dirksen's influence will continue to be felt in this and other areas of concern, but some slowdown in the legislative process can be expected.

WEATHER OPPORTUNITY

No year passes without reminders of the weather's crucial impact on man and all his works. The most recent, and one of the most severe, of such reminders was the complex of disastrous storms and freezes that struck the eastern half of the nation and ruined millions of dollars worth of fruit crops.

Catastrophes of this kind betoken more, however, than simply the part uncontrolled nature plays in determining whether or not men shall prosper. Above all they suggest the vital importance of working out better methods of lessening the effects of such disasters on individuals and communities, accurately predicting the weather long in advance, and even bending the weather to serve human purposes.

Control over the weather appears still to be a long ways in the future. Recent developments suggest that we stand on the verge of important breakthroughs in long-range weather prediction, however. As for means of softening the blow when a weather disaster strikes, much has already been done along these lines through both private and government machinery. But a good deal more could be done to assure that the bad effects will be held to a minimum, and that those hardest hit will be able to get reasonable compensation without undue delay.

The main point underscored by the unseasonal frosts and bad weather is that

'These Days'

WHICH WAY FOR YOUNG REPUBLICANS?

It is no secret that Ray Bliss, the chairman of the Republican National Committee, would feel more comfortable if the so-called moderates of the party were able to take control of the Young Republicans, who are now headed nationally by Tom Van Sickle, a Kansas conservative. There was a good deal of cheer at the Bliss headquarters when the "syndicate," as the conservatives are called to distinguish them from the moderate "gangbusters," lost control recently of the important Washington, D. C., Young Republican Club.

The Washington election, which put "progressive" Reuben McCormack, a legislative aide to Senator Frank Carlson of Kansas, in as president of the D.C. Young Republicans, has been contested, on the ground that there were twenty-two more ballots cast than there were YRs legally voting. McCormack won by a scant margin of eight votes. But the attempt of the conservatives to force a new election has come to nothing. McCormack's victory has been certified, and on the strength of it Senator Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania has been insisting that the "wild men" of the national Young Republican clubs must be similarly tamed all over the country.

Actually, this idea that the conservatives of the national YR are any more harum-scarum than the "gangbusters" among the young Republican liberals is a figment of Senator Scott's imagination. Both the Right and the Left among the Republican young have had their adepts at infighting; there have been toughs in both groups. The real question that Bliss should be considering is whether the adults of the party have the right to coerce the Young Republicans to the extent of trying to put a "receiver" over them, as Senator Scott has been quoted as threatening.

It should come as a sobering thing to Ray Bliss that a former conservative National President of the Young Republicans, Donald E. "Buz" Lukens, has just given the Republican Party an object lesson in how to win a primary victory by really trying. It was in the new twenty-fourth Congressional district of Bliss's own home state of Ohio that Lukens pulled his astounding coup. The district had been carved out of some older districts, and it has no incumbent in the present Congress. Lukens wasn't given a chance of winning against the regular Republican organization, but he went into the primary with some imaginative campaign ideas and with an enthusiasm that couldn't be stopped.

What Lukens did was to bring out young married couples who had never before bothered to vote in a primary. He estimates that he had over five hundred converted Democrats and some three hundred Independents in his corner. His active campaign workers—1,500 adults and five hundred teenagers—swarmed over the new district—which includes Middletown, the home of the Armco steel company—like so many locusts. And the significant thing is that they won as conservatives against the "machine" in a district that should be safely Republican next fall.

What should be brought to the attention of Senator Scott, who has been equating conservatism with hoodlumism, is that Lukens won without once indulging in personalities; indeed, he campaigned without mentioning his opposition. Lukens, a Quaker who has been a Sunday school teacher and an organizer of the Christian Businessman Prayer Breakfast, insisted on meeting his Sunday night campaign gatherings were actually devoted in good part to prayer. And the Number One item in the Lukens's platform reads: "If elected to Congress Donald Lukens will introduce a constitutional amendment to allow voluntary expression of Faith in schools as determined by local school boards."

Such piety could be a little cloying to old-time clubhouse politicians. But the point is, it proves that Senator Scott's contention—that the Young Republicans have been mainly a hatching ground for thugs and "rat fink" racists—is a rather wild distortion. Lukens's real sin, of course, is that he is a conservative. But this is something that should be debated on its merits, without reference to the wholly extraneous issue of a hoodlumism that Young Republican leaders such as Lukens and Tom Van Sickle would themselves be quick to condemn.

Clean Pool Water Removes Danger of Infections

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
(Last of two related columns)

Outdoor swimming, whether in a pool, lake, river or ocean is attracting ever-increasing crowds. This very fact increases the danger of infections unless precautions are taken to keep the water clean. In pools, public or private, this requires filtering and chlorinating the water and cleaning the bottom.

The pool filter should be checked at least once a week to make sure it is working and the chlorine content should be tested daily.

Many owners of home swimming pools prefer iodine or bromochlorodimethyl hydantoin as a disinfectant, because they are less irritating to the mucous membranes.

The eyes, ears, throat, nose and nasal sinuses are the parts most likely to become infected. The sources of the infection may be rain that has fallen through air that is not as clean as it looks, drainage from the soil and germs from the bathers themselves. Fortunately, this pollution is subjected to extensive dilution, the germ-killing rays of the sun and the disinfecting action of the oxygen in the air.

If so-called swimmer's ear—an inflammation of the outer ear canal due to bacteria fungi—with a solution of acetic acid and alcohol is often catches up with you, gentle flushing of the canal all that is needed to clear it up. A person with a perforated eardrum should not risk such an infection by swimming without waterproof earplugs.

Q—I am a housewife. My eyes burn and water and the doctor has not been able to help me. What do you advise?

A—In many cases such eye discomfort is caused by rubbing salt from the fingers or eyebrows into the eyes or by a hypersensitivity to the soap or cosmetics used. Another frequent cause is a high level of air pollution but this would also cause you to have a chronic, hacking cough. If soothing eye drops have failed and if switching to a plain white unscented soap and avoiding cosmetics on the lids or near the eyes does not give you relief within two weeks, a thorough checkup by an allergist would be advisable.

Q—My eyes feel fine all day but at night they feel like they're full of sand. There is no matter coming from them. What could cause this and what should I do?

A—You have conjunctivitis. Try applying cold, wet compresses for 10 minutes two or three times in the evening. For possible causes and further treatment see the preceding question.

efforts at weather prediction and climate control should be vigorously pushed. New tools for weather research, notably satellites and computers able to predetermine atmospheric patterns on a global scale, make it likely that significant advances can be made in the period just ahead. The best possible use ought to be made of the opportunities thus opened up.

"You, Too?"

Washington News

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Washington Correspondent

CHICAGO (NEA) — The important 1966 struggle between Illinois Sen. Paul Douglas and Republican challenger Charles Percy is tangled up with the rising fortunes of Adlai E. Stevenson III.

One of the late, elder Adlai's three sons, this 35-year-old state representative is running now for state treasurer—at the request of the worried Douglas.

There is no way to fortell, of course, exactly how much help Douglas will get from the already proven magic of young Stevenson's name. But these things can be said: Douglas himself is sagging enough of the possible rub-off effects to want Stevenson to campaign with him from the same platform. Illinois sources say Stevenson will comply.

Douglas' reasoning is understandable, since there is a very strong prospect that young Adlai will lead the entire state ticket next November, just as he led all state legislators in the wild at-large scramble for the Illinois House in 1964.

IF STEVENSON DOES as well at the polls as now seems likely, high sources indicate that he almost certainly will find himself on the escalator taking him toward major political office.

The word has been quietly passed here and there that Stevenson would be marked in for 1968 either as the Democratic challenger to Sen. Everett Dirksen or as the successor-nominee to Democratic Gov. Otto Kerner. Kerner would like a third term. But no one in Illinois history has ever gained one. Furthermore, there is disenchantment with Kerner among some top Illinois Democrats since he ran more than 600,000 votes behind Lyndon Johnson in 1964.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

May 17, 1946 — Police Chief Ernest Boss noted a low rate of injuries from traffic mishaps here.

Ferry service was resumed May 16 between here and Rhinecliff. The Wiltwyck Country Club joined the Eastern New York Golf Association.

Peter Keresman, of Kingston, secretary of the New York State Police Conference, criticized Gov. Dewey for his veto of a bill authorizing retirement after 25 years of service.

May 17—The Board of Public Works decided to lease a site near the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company building, Greenkill and South Clinton Avenues, for use as a playground.

Freezing weather affected some fruit crops in the southern part of the county.

A parade of 12 divisions was planned here for Memorial Day.

The Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce protested against the New York Central Railroad's plan to cut passenger service.

Even though it is widely agreed young Adlai would have preferred a second term in the Illinois House, a place on the state ticket will give him useful exposure. And the job, now a four-year-term spot, offers a good platform for wider ambitions.

STEVENSON'S INDEPENDENCE as a political performer has nettled Chicago's Mayor Richard Daley more than a little. As a budding lawmaker, he tossed in several reform bills, including measures affecting conflict of interests and lobbying. They all bit the dust in the GOP controlled state Senate.

Stevenson also endorsed a legislative colleague, Abner Mikva, as of a June 14 primary opponent against incumbent U.S. Rep. Barrett O'Hara in the 2nd Illinois Congressional District. Daley forces have tried in vain to get Stevenson to modify that support.

Yet Daley is too much the realist not to appreciate the possible long-term value to the party cause of a man with Stevenson's evident vote magic and independent record.

BOSS-TYPES OFTEN LIKE to have their party roster graced by what an observer once called "high-minded stiff." When Illinois National Convention Committee member Jacob Arvey chose Stevenson's father, the senior Adlai, for the governorship in 1948, he had that partly in mind.

But Paul Douglas, troubled especially by private polls which show him sagging in Chicago suburbs where previously he has done very well, is counting on Stevenson's short-run value in 1966 and it could be very substantial.

A new court house and a fireproof county clerk's office was built in 1818, the largest of the old structure being preserved as far as possible.

Going back to 1820 folks from Kingston made a trip to New York on sailing vessels, which took several days at best, depending upon wind and tide. The principal part of the sloop was devoted to freight. There was always a cabin fitted with 10 or more berths for the passengers, the crew using the forecabin for cooking and lodging. The custom was to arrange congenial parties for this trip to New York, because of the time required. During adverse winds when no progress could be made, the vessel would anchor, and the passengers went ashore and had a good time. They could either bring their own provisions or board with the captain. Each had a big chest stocked with cooked food, and a place for filled flasks of Holland Gin, a favorite beverage those days. This trip became so pleasant and convenient that there was a weekly sloop service by a regular packet line to New York from Kingston.

He further writes that in April, 1803, the sale and conveyance of land known as the "Comons," was finally authorized. Heads of families, natives of the town, having an estate of 200 English pounds received a 45 acre lot on payment of $16.50. Those having 100 English pounds got a 30 acre lot for $30. Those who came in town after 1777 had to pay $40 for their lot. The sale of lands had left a handsome fund in the treasury after the payment of debts and the support of the poor. He writes that the old trustees were always chosen from the leading citizens of the town, and always labored for the triumph of right and justice. See Current Strike Epidemic Hitting the Public Directly

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—An epidemic of strikes has begun to affect the American individual in a way that has seldom felt. In the first quarter of this year, more workers were involved in strikes than in any similar period since 1953. While there have been larger strikes before, in which more workers have been idled for longer periods, the actual number of disputes that have recently resulted in strikes is rising. There probably would have been more strikes, but the contracts of most of the big companies with the unions of large membership do not come up for renewal this year. The prospect now, therefore, is that industrial strife may be substantially increased next year, when large as well as small unions will be involved.

Damaging to Public
Most of the current strikes seem to damage the public directly. Thus, eleven western states have been subjected to a bus strike, which interferes with travel arrangements and is particularly hard on servicemen. A general strike was called against the New England Telephone Company over the weekend, and approximately 11,000 workers in 25 locals are reported to have participated. Taxicab drivers in New York City have been on strike, disrupting transportation in the nation's largest city. The newspaper strike in New York, affecting three newspapers, has been going on now for more than three weeks.

The only explanation for the wave of strikes last year and this year is the economic boom, which has persuaded many union leaders that, with all the talk about big profits, it was opportune for the labor unions to get their share while the going is good. Also, in a period of full employment, temporary jobs in alternate fields are easier for some of the strikers to get. The impression prevails, moreover, that employers will capitulate rapidly to almost any demand. There are few companies which are doing so well financially that they can afford to risk the losses incurred during a long strike.

Bluffing at New High
But basically the main trouble is that the art of bluffing has reached new proportions. The labor unions assume, when an offer is made by an employer, that it is just a bargaining maneuver and that, if rejected, a better offer or a series of improved offers will then be forthcoming until the very hour when the strike is imminent. Some labor-union leaders feel that after a few days or a week of striking, they will win even better terms. Meanwhile, the public suffers extensive injury and, when the strikes are over, nobody is recompensed. Oddly enough, the Congress of the United States, which is supposed to be interested in the "general welfare," has shown little disposition to inquire into the causes of strikes or the lack of satisfactory methods of settling the labor-management disputes.

The administration itself has maintained a neutral attitude and refuses to place the blame on labor for any of the work stoppages. The government's mediation machinery is utilized frequently, and often has been useful in bringing the two sides together to a final settlement after a strike has occurred. Labor-union leaders have apparently decided on a strategy of actually threatening an employer as a means of assuring prompt acceptance of future demands.

Meanwhile, most businesses are not getting as good a return on their money invested as they did several years ago. While the total amount of profits may be larger than before, due to the increased volume, the rate of return in many industries has not gone up in comparison with a decade ago.

The administration has been talking a good deal about "guidesposts" for both wages and prices, but this has really had little effect on the labor side.

Congress regards the whole problem as a ticklish subject. Hence, America is not making the progress it might well have made if the legislators of today were as alert to the dangers of labor-management disputes as they were twenty years ago. This may be due to the rising political influence of labor, which now contributes substantial sums to help the Democratic party and raises a good deal of money also for those Republicans who join with the Democrats to make a majority in Congress. That's why there is a reluctance here nowadays to pass legislation to regulate labor-management relations and to protect the public interest.

It has been estimated that over the United States about 43 million tons of dust settle each year. Of this, 31 million tons is from natural sources, including 1 million tons of pollen. The rest is caused by human activities. In sections with the heaviest industrialization as much as 200 tons per square mile have fallen. In Detroit, Mich., measurements of 72 tons of dust per square mile per month have been taken.

Start Removal Of Two-Story Fair St. Site

Work of demolishing the two-story building at 271 Fair Street which has been occupied for years with stores on the main floor and offices upstairs, was started Monday by the Poughkeepsie Wrecking Co., of Arlington.

Howard S. John, president of the Ulster County Savings Bank, owners of the property, said the building is being removed but there are no announced plans for future use of the property at the present time.

The bank executive said the work is part of the bank's "modernization and improvement" program, and that the matter of future uses of the property will be discussed at a meeting of the Board of Directors scheduled for today.

Rail Traffic Moves, Sidney Still Clears Up

SIDNEY, N.Y. (AP)—Freight trains rumbled today past the scene of a derailment that blocked Delaware & Hudson rail traffic for 21 hours Monday, but a railroad official estimated it would be "several days" before things were back to normal.

Damage was estimated at $100,000 in the derailment of 18 cars of a 104-car freight near the downtown section of this village between Binghamton and Oneonta.

No one was injured. The last 18 cars went off the tracks as the train moved between the Union Street and Maine Street crossings. Eight cars carried piggy-back truck-trailers, which scattered meat and machinery as they were tossed to the ground.

Educators Name Parker

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—Raymond L. Parker of Uniondale has been elected to his first full term as president of the State Association of Public School Adult Educators.

Parker was elected Monday at the association's convention, which ends today. He had been serving in the post to fill an unexpired term.

Donald Carlson of Guilfordland was designated president-elect to succeed Parker next year, while J. Edwin Hostetter of Stony Point was elected vice president.

Harold Williams of Glens Falls was elected treasurer and Mrs. Margaret Nevin of Amherst, re-elected secretary.

Dies of Injuries

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (AP)—A 35-year-old man died in a hospital at nearby Bath Monday of injuries suffered earlier in the day when his automobile struck a concrete culvert.

He was William F. Steiner of Bradford in Steuben County, who was hurt in the accident on a rural road 11 miles north of this Schuyler County community, police said.

Woman's Club Plans Activities

The May meeting of the Woman's Club of Rosendale was held at the Villa Bianca. It was announced that the child health clinic will be held Thursday, May 19 from 1 p. m. to 3 p. m. at the town clerk's office, Main Street, Rosendale. Two volunteers from the club serving at the clinic May 19 will be Mrs. Albert Morelli and Mrs. Lottie Burns.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs third district luncheon was held at the Governor Clinton Hotel April 28 and was attended by Mrs. Irwin Smith, Mrs. Paul Purcell and Mrs. Lottie Burns. Mrs. Smith, vice-president, gave a resume of the club activities over the years at the luncheon. The club was highly praised for the work they are doing in the community.

Volunteering to serve at the orthopedic clinic held once a year in Kingston were Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Burns.

Mrs. Arthur O'Leary Sr., chairman of the library strawberry festival sponsored by the Woman's Club, announced the date of the festival will be June 23 at the library grounds. A fashion show is scheduled by the club at the library grounds. A fashion show is scheduled by the club in October at Williams Lake Hotel. Reports of the fashion show progress to date were given by Mrs. Albert Morelli and Mrs. James Merck.

Mrs. Thomas Hanrahan announced that Pack 17 Cub Scouts needs den mothers in the Tillson area or will disband. Anyone interested in serving as den mother may contact Mr. or Mrs. Hanrahan as soon as possible.

Mrs. O'Leary, president, announced that she had received a personal invitation from Governor Nelson Rockefeller to attend a Governor's Conference on Woman May 26 and 27 at the New York Hilton Hotel in New York. Club members voted to send Mrs. O'Leary and vice-president, Mrs. Smith as representatives of the club to the conference on women.

New members introduced at the meeting were Mrs. Joseph LeFara and Mrs. Leonard LeFara.

A report on the May town board meeting was given by Mrs. O'Leary. Mrs. Helen Mathews reported attending the village board meeting and reading a letter on the grass roots efforts to create a more beautiful America.

Mrs. Robert Sheehan reported working with Mayor Arthur Mulligan to obtain cross walk markings at St. Peter's School which are now in effect. Members were requested to try to attend village, town and planning board meetings and report back to the club.

A letter of thank you will be sent to the Rosendale Town Board members for the job done on the loan closet space at the town community building. The Woman's Club at its April meeting voted to pay for work done. The town board at its May meeting voted to pay the amount involved which was $75 as a town expense.

The club voted to make an annual contribution of $25 to the town community building fund for the use of the loan closet. The loan closet is a community project to the people of the town for use of hospital equipment consisting of beds, wheel chairs, crutches and other items. The committee for the loan closet is Mrs. Peter Mathews and Mrs. Wilfred Doolittle.

The nominating committee appointed to submit a new slate of officers at the June meeting is Mrs. Lottie Burns, Mrs. Raymond Temple and Mrs. Stanley VanWagon.

The next meeting of the club will be Thursday, June 9 and will be held at the Williams Lake Hotel.

St. Peter's Group Meets on Wednesday

The next meeting of the St. Peter's School Association will be held next Wednesday at 8 p. m. The Sisters and teachers will attend the meeting.

The education committee will give a report and the nominating committee will report on the new slate of officers.

After the meeting there will be two speakers who will give all necessary information on the Catholic Day Camp in Lake Katrine. Refreshments will be served.

Grant for Putnam

WASHINGTON (AP)—New York State is the recipient of a $47,248 grant to help acquire 269 acres in Putnam County for park purposes.

The Department of Housing and Urban Development awarded the funds Monday.

Brink Suspect Is Denied Bail

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Joel Singer, 23, of Chomedy, Que., had little hope today of being freed on bail while awaiting trial in the $423,000 burglary of a Brink's Inc. vault last October.

Justice John H. Farnham of State Supreme Court upheld a lower court ruling Monday in denying bail to Singer, who is charged with first-degree grand larceny and third - degree burglary.

Farnham said that, if Singer were released on bail and refused to return willingly, it would cost the county many thousands of dollars.

Singer was arrested December 5 at a Montreal restaurant. He has been in the Onondaga County jail since April 30, when he was extradited from Canada.

Singer and six unknown persons were indicted May 5 in the burglary. A 20 mm. anti-tank cannon was hauled into the Brink's office the weekend of October 23 - 24, and about 20 rounds were fired to blast open the vault door. There were no witnesses.

Ex-Hudson Clerk Faces Sentencing 31st on Shortages

HUDSON, N.Y. (AP)—Albert F. Craft, a former clerk in the Hudson city treasurer's office, faces sentencing May 31 on charges stemming from a $10,000 shortage of public funds.

Craft pleaded guilty Monday to charges of petty and grand larceny. He had been indicted by a Columbia County grand jury on 120 counts of forgery, petty and grand larceny and misappropriation of public funds.

Craft originally pleaded innocent to the charges.

Former treasurer Joseph Moy is under a six-month suspended sentence for petty larceny in the case.

Eisner Leaving Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lester Eisner Jr., Northeast regional administrator of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, plans to leave the post Friday.

A spokesman for the department said Monday that no successor has been named for the region, which comprises the New England States and New York State.

Eisner, a Republican, has been regional administrator since his appointment by President Eisenhower six years ago.

Miracle Needed to Avert It
Ky's Action Could Result
In Eventual Viet Civil War

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — A country with a fever. The one certainty about South Viet Nam is its uncertainty, no matter how optimistic the Johnson administration sounds about it.
There had to be a showdown there between the military government and the Buddhists who want to topple it while the United States is busy trying to defend it against the Communists.
Forces Showdown
Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, who met with President Johnson in Honolulu last February, forced the showdown over the weekend when troops loyal to him seized Viet Nam's second largest city, Da Nang, a Buddhist stronghold.
This could mean civil war, and a bloody one.
The Johnson administration appeared deeply disturbed and said it had no foreknowledge of Ky's action. Johnson met repeatedly with his top aides. Then late Monday a high U.S. official said he doubted there would be civil war.
He would not let his name be used but met with newsmen after a late Monday conference between Johnson and his aides, including Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to Viet Nam.
But this official's optimism turned out to be limited.
While he didn't expect war now, he said he foresaw a long period of instability — while the United States was still trying to keep out the Communists — but hopefully thought this might evolve into stability.
And this gets back to a basic question:
If no civil war now, what about later? The country has been more or less chaotic for years. While Ky may get away with his showdown now, no one can predict there won't be a blood bath eventually.
The South Vietnamese have never had democracy. Their concern, as they have demonstrated it, has never been so much for the national interest as for the interest of special groups.
The more chaotic Viet Nam becomes, the less reason the United States can have before the world for keeping its forces there to defend against communism a people who meanwhile make war on themselves.
If under such circumstances the United States had to pull out, it would be an international embarrassment for the United States without parallel in its history.
No wonder the Johnson administration keeps hoping things will turn out all right. Perhaps Ky will be able to perform such a miracle. He will be the only one in contemporary Vietnamese history who did.
And at this moment anyone trying to look at the whole situation objectively has to keep his fingers crossed.
The same U.S. official mentioned above said one of the Quang, is totally committed — Buddhist leaders, Thich Tri Quang, is totally committed to the downfall of Ky's government and that his ambition would not be diminished by any temporary Ky victory.
The Buddhists say they want a civilian government. Ky says that's what they will have, but not for about a year, and not then if the new government turns out to be neutralist or pro-Communist.
And at this point it isn't clear at all whether Tri Quang is pro-Communist although he has made vague statements to the effect that he wasn't.

THE SHAPE TO COME?—Resembling a cubist anthill, a futuristic apartment complex under construction on the banks of the St. Lawrence River at Montreal for the city's coming world's fair, EXPO 67, will look like this model when completed. Precast molds will be hoisted into place to make 158 one- to four-bedroom units, each with landscaped gardens. The base contains a complete power plant, service facilities and covered parking for each tenant. The $13.5 million project is an experiment in a "complete living environment" for a high-density population area.

Say Bosch May Quit Santo Race

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Former President Juan Bosch is reported planning to pull out of the presidential election contest because of new violence against members of his Dominican Revolutionary party — PRD.
Authoritative sources said Bosch also is asking the PRD, which he founded, to withdraw from the campaign. Election day is June 1.

A BETTER MOUSETRAP—Possibly fearing that automation may be moving in on them, also, Ichy and Snoopy view with suspicion an electronic mousetrap. When a mouse steps on a plate on the floor, a battery-powered, transistorized circuit drops the door to make an instant prison. Not really part of an anticampaign, the trap was devised to illustrate a point in a speech by Dr. Karl L. Fetters of Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co.—that research becomes really useful when coupled with practical engineering.

Charge Jersey Man
In Metal Deal Here

A New Jersey man charged with failure to pay for a local purchase of scrap silver has been apprehended and is due to appear in city court at a date to be fixed.

An Associated Press report from Jersey City today noted that FBI agents have arrested Warren Steinburg, 26, of East Orange, N. J., on a charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for grand larceny.
Steinburg is charged with having obtained the scrap metal valued at more than $1,000 from the Morris Bag & Junk Co., Inc., of 174 Cornell Street, and with having stopped payment on a check used to pay for it, before it could be cashed. He is under $1,000 bail bond.
The larceny charge was lodged locally and the FBI entered the case because of interstate involvement.

2 Infants Die in Fire

ELMIRA, N.Y. (AP) — Two children were reported to have perished today in a fire that destroyed a house at Erin, 10 miles northeast of here.

Their identities were not disclosed.
State Police said the two-story frame house was owned by the Lyle Wheeler family.

Troopers said Mrs. Wheeler was injured trying to save her children. She was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital in Elmira.

Report Progress
In Gotham News
Strike Mediation

NEW YORK (AP) — David L. Cole, the special mediator in New York's newspaper strike, reported some progress Monday night in the negotiations between the printers and the struck World Journal Tribune, Inc.

"I would say there was evidence that both sides join in wanting some movement," Cole said. "I'm encouraged. I think we've made some progress."

Some Issues Cleared
Cole, however, did not elaborate but said only that "some peripheral issues" had been cleared up, paving the way for discussion of the crucial money issue.

Bertram A. Powers, president of Local 6 of the International Typographical Union agreed that some progress had been made, but the publishers made no assessment following day-long talks yesterday.

The printers are demanding supplemental severance pay beyond that provided in the old contract for those who lost their jobs in the merger April 25 of the morning Herald Tribune and the afternoon World-Telegram & Sun and Journal-American.

The New York Newspaper Guild struck the new corporation one day before the scheduled publication of a morning and afternoon newspaper. It has no contract with the old newspapers and is seeking the layoff of its members on a seniority basis.

Nine other unions, including the printers, have refused to cross the guild picket line and have said their members will not work for the merged newspapers without new contracts.
Cole, who was appointed by Mayor John V. Lindsay to mediate the dispute, has termed this a crucial week in the negotiations.

Urges Nomination
Of Dead Man in Pa.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—State Republican leaders urged the nomination of a dead man for lieutenant governor and Democratic leaders expressed concern over the challenge of an independent candidate for their party's gubernatorial nomination in today's Pennsylvania primary election.
And the voting today, like that of next November in this populous northeastern state may have an effect on Republican presidential fortunes two years hence.

Walter E. Alessandrini, the state's attorney general and the Republican organization candidate for lieutenant governor, was killed in a plane crash May 8. Because of state law, his name is still on the ballot. Should he win, the organization—the Republican State Committee—would name the nominee for next November's ballot.

Alessandrini was a close friend of Republican Gov. William Scranton. Scranton can't succeed himself, but will need to control the state party organization if he wants to run for president again in 1968.

U.S. Administration Harassed

Viet Pattern Is Repeating Itself Mocking Assessments by Leaders

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

How accurate have U.S. leaders been in assessing developments and prospects in embattled, tumultuous South Viet Nam?

A recapitulation of some of their less lucky statements about a frustrating war in a frustrating country suggests that a pattern has been repeating itself over and over with deadly regularity.

Mock Assessments

Events mock the assessments, the predictions and the sometimes guarded optimism of harassed U.S. administration leaders.

Absence of an ambassador from his post in Saigon can be almost a signal for some new and shocking development. A U.S. strategy conference in Honolulu can be transformed into an omen of Saigon turmoil to come.

Time after time Washington expresses surprise at a sudden stormy development in Saigon's politics. Now, once again, Washington is surprised as it looks at a new crisis, this one evoking echoes of the 1963 turmoil which brought down the regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Only a week ago, Secretary of State Dean Rusk remarked to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that "some interpretations may have been overdrawn" in the reporting of a statement by Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

Still Stands on Year

Ky, discussing prospective South Viet Nam elections, said it would take at least a year to prepare orderly transition to civilian rule and he expected to remain in power that long. Rusk said Ky was "not going to try to stand in the way of the constitutional and electoral process."

A few days later Ky himself left little room for misinterpretation. Washington received another in a long series of Viet Nam jolts when Ky sent government troops into Da Nang to seize that strategic port city from his political foes.

Ky's action immediately ignited the anger of the politically powerful Buddhists—the same Buddhists who brought down the Diem regime in November, 1963. Fears were expressed of civil war in a nation already tormented by a frustrating war with Communist guerrillas.

The current upheaval came while Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge was in Washington for consultations. This pattern is familiar, too.

Pattern Familiar

In the summer of 1963, the fateful Buddhist crisis built up during the vacation of Ambassador Frederick Nolting.

The crisis was at a high temperature when he returned. Before his departure, with Lodge about to succeed him, Nolting made a prediction: "Victory (over the Viet Cong) in my judgment is well on its way in Viet Nam, provided only that unity of purpose and perseverance in action are not weakened by internal dissension."

The internal dissension was already there and burning furiously.

In his one year as ambassador, July 1964 to June 1965, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor left Saigon for Washington four times. During three of those absences there were political upheavals in Saigon. Only once did Taylor return to find in office the same men who were there when he left.

Both Were Unlucky

Administration figures such as Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and Rusk have been frequently unlucky with assessments and predictions regarding the Viet Nam war. U.S. military men, too, frequently were confounded by the frustrating way events developed in Viet Nam.

In 1962, military men in Viet Nam were expressing the opinion that the way to win the war was to kill more and more Viet Cong. But they found that the more Viet Cong were killed, the more there were. In 1962, the hard-core main force of guerrillas was estimated at 20,000. The main force is now estimated at 60,000 and over-all Viet Cong strength at 203,000, exclusive of 30,000 North Viet Nam regulars said to have poured into the South since early 1965. And there still is a big pool in the North.

Perhaps the least lucky with predictions and assessments has been McNamara.

In September, 1963, McNamara and Taylor visited Viet Nam. They reported to President John F. Kennedy "their judgment that the major part of the U.S. military task can be completed by the end of 1965" and that the need for major U.S. involvement would end then.

Diem Regime Falls

Two months later a military coup brought down the Diem regime.

Rusk and McNamara went to Honolulu for a crisis conference, and total support was expressed for the new top man, Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh.

At the end of 1963, McNamara expressed optimism about prospects for 1964, noting that the rate of Communist attacks had "declined dramatically." On Jan. 27, 1964, he noted that Minh's government "has considerably more popular support than its predecessor and the military revolutionary committee is beginning to take action to intensify military operations and improve civil administration."

Three days later, Minh was evicted by a coup and Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh was in. Minh had been going downhill all along. And the fact of 1964 was that Communist attacks, rather than declining, increased in intensity.

Would Pull Out

A few days later McNamara said he and President Johnson were delighted with Gen. Khanh's plans to step up the war. On Feb. 18 he said "the United States will pull out most troops by 1965, even if the anti-Communist drive falters" in Viet Nam. Keeping all American troops in South Viet Nam, he said, "would be a waste of our personnel."

What if the South Vietnamese effort should cave in?

"I don't believe that pouring in hundreds of thousands of troops is the solution," said McNamara. He said the administration had no plans to do so.

Today there are 255,000 U.S. troops in Viet Nam.

After a visit to Saigon in March, 1964, McNamara remarked: "I think Gen. Khanh has got it now. I was most impressed with their pacification program and now all we have to do is help administer it." The pacification program had difficulty getting off the ground.

Reported Progress

McNamara, who had made many public demonstrations of support for Khanh in South Viet Nam, was back there again in May, 1964, with Taylor, and the two reported "excellent progress."

The secretary did say, however, it might be necessary to send more U.S. troops on training missions and reconsider plans for withdrawal of most of the 15,000-man force by the end of 1965. Now he said it would be a "long, hard war." In less than three months, a major U.S. military buildup was in progress.

In June, 1964, administration representatives consulted in Honolulu on the Viet Nam situation. Lodge left Saigon to campaign in presidential primaries and Taylor took his place. And a storm was brewing.

Suddenly Khanh, under heavy political pressure, announced he was stepping out as premier. A civilian became premier, and Saigon flourished for a while under civilian rule sponsored by the military. Khanh remained in the background, feuding, incidentally, with Taylor.

Attacked Warships

This—August, 1964—was the month of "escalation." Communist gunboats attacked U.S. warships in the Tonkin Gulf, and the Americans retaliated with air strikes against the gunboats' bases in North Viet Nam.

In July, 1965, McNamara was back in South Viet Nam, now under Ky's rule after a bewildering series of coups and political maneuvers. He noted a deterioration in the situation since he had last been there 14 months before. But in November, 1965, ending yet another visit, he said his most dramatic impression was that "We have stopped losing the war."

SKY TAXI—At busy metropolitan airports, it may often seem that it takes as long to get from the parking lot to the terminal on foot as it takes a plane to fly to a distant destination. No longer at the Houston, Tex., International Airport. A half-million dollar, electronically controlled Sky Taxi, beginning a two-year test, zips along a monorail on rubber tires between the farthest parking areas and the terminal. Passengers enter and leave on a built-in elevator.

Last week, McNamara conceded that political turmoil in South Viet Nam cut U.S. military effectiveness, but he predicted "that will terminate shortly."

Then South Viet Nam blew up again.

Early this year President

Johnson traveled to Honolulu and gave his personal endorsement to Ky and the chief of state, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, as young leaders determined that a social revolution should not wait until the guns went silent. He said "The leaders of both governments are determined that we shall move forward."

There are some who say now that the Honolulu meeting was a mistake, indeed a political blunder. It foretold new political trouble in South Viet Nam.

Some commentators pointed out that the display of U.S. patronage for Ky offended feelings of national sovereignty and dignity in South Viet Nam. And Ky appeared to be emboldened by the meeting to take a firm stand against a military rival in the 1st Corps area—the scene of the latest big explosion.

Expect Approval To Add Solons as CIA Watchdogs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee is expected to approve today a resolution to add three of its members to the seven-member Central Intelligence Agency watchdog committee.

Hard Road Ahead

But that will be only the beginning of a long, hard road for the resolution which has been denounced by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Armed Services subcommittee responsible for overseeing the activities of the intelligence organization.

Under the usual procedure, the resolution next must go to the Senate Rules Committee. There a majority may bottle it up.

If it ever reaches the Senate, it will collide immediately with Russell, who captains the Senate's inner circle.

Russell, also head of the Armed Services Committee, has put his prestige on the line against the resolution which is supported by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee.

Russell told the Senate Monday "There is no justification whatever for any committee to muscle in on the jurisdiction of the Armed Services Committee so far as the CIA is concerned."

At stake in the current controversy is the issue of whether the CIA has overstepped the bounds of its intelligence-gathering mission to influence foreign policy.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., sponsor of the resolution, says it has, Russell called that contention "sheer poppycock."

"There is simply not a scintilla of truth in such a charge," Russell said, "and not a single concrete case can be provided where it has done so."

CIA Against Plan

The CIA, which Russell says has to stand mute when it is assailed because of the peculiar nature of its assignment, does not want any additional senators soaking up its secrets.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, touched on that point when he told the Senate Monday the watchdog group was distinguished by its infrequency of leaks while the Foreign Relations Committee has become a sieve of information.

Russell said public criticism of the CIA's operations and news leaks might cause the agency's informants around the world to "close up like clams. Or worse than that, to lose their lives."

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., noted that CIA supervision has to be handled quietly. He said he carefully tears up even the notes he makes to ask questions at watchdog committee meetings.

Plan to Organize Mounted Patrol; Meeting Slated

Organization of a mounted sheriff's posse patrol will be discussed next Monday night at a meeting to be held at 8 p. m. at the county court house. Any horseman in the county who has access to a horse and trailer, and who is of good moral character and willing to undergo a background check, is invited to attend the meeting.

At that time the formation of an Ulster County Mounted Patrol will be discussed.

Any horseman in the county, who can qualify may contact Warden Carl Cline at the sheriff's office or Stuart Miller of Woodstock for additional details. Miller will discuss the matter with any local horsemen during evening hours.

Formation of a horse patrol is strictly on a volunteer basis. The purpose of the patrol is to participate in policing parades or other functions and assist in rescue work throughout the county.

Miller, who is interested in the formation of this volunteer mounted patrol, invites all horsemen of the county to attend the meeting next week. It is hoped that the first time the patrol will function as a part of the law enforcement program can be at the annual Memorial Day parade. Upwards of 21 members are being sought as a beginning for the patrol.

Sheriff William B. Martin, a former state trooper still recalls the State Police mounted patrol, is backing the organization.

Petitions Against Bikini
EDMOND, Okla. (AP)—Mrs. Marla Hood, 21, a pretty housewife, didn't know what she was getting into when she took advantage of sunny spring weather to mow her front lawn wearing a bikini bathing suit.

Before she finished, police arrived with a complaint accusing her of indecent exposure. The complaint, circulated by Jack L. Smith, 30, who said he is pastor of a non-denominational country church, had been signed by five neighbors.

"I thought her appearance in a bikini was morally degrading," Smith said.

Mrs. Hood is to appear in court Thursday.

Some Edmond residents hired a lawyer for Mrs. Hood. The lawyer, Don Manness, said his clients want to contest a law which forbids them to wear bathing suits in their own yard.

Late Bulletin

Leary Indicted

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. (AP)—Dr. Timothy Leary, former Harvard teacher and researcher in the hallucinogenic drugs, and three others were indicted today on narcotics charges.

The May county grand jury returned indictments on two counts of marijuana possession against Leary; one marijuana count against Barry Kaplan of New York City; and two counts—possession of both marijuana and LSD—against Stewart F. Swain, 46, and his wife, Nancy, 36, of Blue Jay, Calif.

The four were arrested April 17 in a raid on a 65-room country mansion at Millbrook, N. Y., rented by Leary for use by the "Castalia Foundation," a psychedelic research group.

Dist. Atty. John Heilman said tentative plans were to arraign the four on the indictments on Friday. They are free on bail ranging from $5,000 for Leary to $1,000 for Mrs. Swain.

Leary also is free in bail while appealing a Texas conviction and 30-year prison sentence for transporting marijuana from Mexico and failing to pay tax on it.

Bonanno Returns, Surrenders to U. S. Authorities

NEW YORK (AP) — Cosa Nostra figure Joseph (Joe Bonanno) Bonanno, missing since he was allegedly kidnapped at gunpoint from a Manhattan street in 1964, surrendered to federal authorities today.

Bonanno walked into the U. S. Court House at Foley Square, ending speculation over his fate that had started with his alleged Oct. 21, 1964 abduction.

Wearing a grey-blue suit and horn rimmed glasses, the husky underworld figure stood mute when reporters asked if he had anything to say.

He was accompanied by his attorney, Albert J. Kreiger, who said, "Mr. Bonanno has no statement to make at this time."

Kreiger told reporters that there "could be" a sealed indictment against his client charging obstruction of justice or that the government "wants to hold him as a material witness."

At the time of his disappearance he had been on his way to testify about the Cosa Nostra before a federal grand jury.

His sudden appearance followed an extensive grand jury investigation into the alleged kidnapping, which was reported at the time by Bonanno's attorney, William Power Maloney.

Maloney claimed that Bonanno was taken off the street in front of his apartment by two armed men, one of whom, the attorney said, fired a shot. Bonanno's scheduled testimony was to have been about racketeering.

Bonanno, 59, had twice appeared before the grand jury. The fact that his third appearance was scheduled for 10 hours after the kidnapping led to some speculation that it was a hoax to avoid the testifying.

County Mental Health Group Plans Fund Drive

In observance of May as National Mental Health Month, the Ulster County Association for Mental Health will conduct a fund-raising campaign in those parts of the county not covered by the Community Chest.

In a statement issued today, association president William H. van Benschoten of West Park, explained that the following townships in the county do not belong to the Community Chest: Denning, Gardiner, Hardenburgh, Lloyd, Marlboro, Olive, Plattekill, Rochester, Shandaken, Shawangunk, Wawarsing and Woodstock.

The local association for mental health is a member of the Community Chest, but is still required to solicit independently in the townships named. The drive underway now is by mail, and is directed to professional people, business and industry.

The annual membership drive to individuals will be conducted, as formerly, during July.

Assisting van Benschoten in the drive are: Dr. Sidney C. Pauker, Dr. Paul Perlman, Joseph D. Saccomani, Charles L. McKendrick, George M. Barthel, Mr. Harold Harris, John E. Johnson, Franklin S. Kelder and Mrs. Donald Schoonmaker.

The Ulster County Association for Mental Health is a voluntary organization, entirely supported by voluntary contributions. The purpose of the association is mainly community education concerning the promotion of mental health and the understanding of the needs of the mentally ill.

Early Symptoms
Early symptoms of mental illness have many forms, ranging from nervous disorders in children to emotional stress in adults. If these are understood, serious illness can often be avoided. In these early stages, broad understanding and guidance on the part of teacher, social worker, physician, minister, relative or friends, is of utmost importance.

This is one of the areas in which the Ulster County Association for Mental Health seeks to provide direction through institutes and workshops for professional people, and programs for the general public.

Many other education, prevention and information services are carried out by the association. The recently issued annual report attempts to convey an idea of the numerous functions which this relatively small, but county wide, agency is performing. Copies are available, on request, from the office of the Association, at 27 East O'Reilly Street.

God Is Dead View Is Examined by Church Speaker

NEW PALTZ — The highly sophisticated God Is Dead theology has taken hold among many of the unsophisticated poor, the Rev. Dr. Lawrence L. Durgin of New York, minister of Broadway United Church of Christ said here today.

Dr. Durgin said the "No God" doctrine means the poor "no longer have to live with the intolerable proposition that there is a living God involved in possibly a party to the filth and greed which victimizes their daily lives."

"To the poor this God is dead: the God who condemns but condones war, who condemns petty thievery from the middle class but condones economic exploitation, who makes IQ tests relatively easy for the privileged moron and impossibly difficult for the disadvantaged genius; the God who makes soldiering profitable for the poor and draft exemption preferable for the middle class."

Dr. Durgin spoke at the annual meeting of the New York Conference of the United Church of Christ. The annual meeting is being held at Lake Mohonk Lodge here May 17-19. The United Church of Christ is a union of Congregational Christian churches and the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Dr. Durgin said that the poor have found a "reasonable symbol" in the person of Christ, "Christ on the Cross, God suffering."

He suggested that all churches give half of their resources to missions for the poor and underprivileged in this country and abroad. "We then might begin to get the response from the all-ways-have-been-poor which all anti-poverty and foreign aid programs are failing to produce," he said.

If the "holy spaciousness of pretentious sanctuaries" were eliminated, he said, present members would either leave the church or else support its mission far more generously.

Would Go to Market Place
"The clergy would be forced to emulate Paul and take work-a-day jobs in the market place of arts, commerce or technology. We would soon be preaching with a deeper humility although our credentials would be vastly improved."

There would be neither time nor patience for the organization which spend each year raising money so as to stumble into another year of money-raising."

Dr. Durgin said that the "revolution" of today is economic rather than racial or regional or national. "The sharp divisions of mankind are economic and unless we understand this the world is heading into a class war so bitter, so calamitous that even Marx's predictions will seem to have been understated."

Marion C. Potter Dies, Was Kin of Woodstock Artist

Marion Cochran Potter of Woodstock, daughter of well known artist Allen D. Cochran, died Sunday at Benedictine Hospital after a long illness.

Her mother was the late Alice Rose Cochran. Her parents, both students of the Art Students League met in Woodstock, he from Cincinnati, Ohio, she from Binghamton. Mrs. Potter was the "first artist baby" born after the Art Student League moved their summer classes from New York City to Woodstock.

She attended schools in New York City and Binghamton and later graduated from Oberlin College, Ohio, having majored in sociology. Mrs. Potter was employed during World War II in a supervisory secretarial position with Link Aviation. She was married to Norman Potter, a former Link official and the couple lived on Long Island for many years.

After the death of her mother in Woodstock several years ago, the Potters moved to Woodstock where they made their home with her father.

Surviving are her father and her husband.

A memorial service will be held at St. Gregory's Episcopal Church, Woodstock, Wednesday 1 p. m. Burial will be in Woodstock Artists Cemetery.

Reserve Decision In Harris Case

Decision was reserved today by County Judge Raymond J. Mino on an application of Marcheline Harris, also known as Marcia Harris, Woodstock, to suppress evidence and dismiss a search warrant issued last June 18, which resulted in a charge of illegal possession of marijuana.

The search warrant was attacked on the grounds there had been insufficient evidence in the affidavits to warrant the issuance of a search warrant.

Assistant District Attorney Francis Vogt appeared in opposition to the application to suppress and Kenneth Kaplan of New York appeared for the defendant.

Ulster County Investigator Thomas F. Mayone was the only witness sworn.

Examined by Assistant District Attorney Vogt, Mayone testified that on June 18, 1965, an application had been made for a search warrant for the premises of Miss Harris in Woodstock. He said the application was based on information and observations which had been made over a period of months and on information which had been given by the investigating officers by other "known addicts."

The search warrant was issued on affidavits of Investigator Mayone and one, Barry Walsh, whom Mayone said was a self-admitted user at one time. There has also been surveillance of the Mead Mountain home of Miss Harris and, Mayone said she had been observed driving a car owned by a known user.

An attempt to show that Miss Harris had been present at a party attended by known users of narcotics was denied by Judge Mino after the witness testified they had been unable to get close enough to the house to ascertain whether Miss Harris was present or not.

Tells of Evidence
Mayone testified that in part the search warrant had been issued on facts secured by himself and others who had kept Miss Harris under surveillance and that they had observed her driving a 1946 car which was owned by one known to be associated with narcotics.

Walsh, who also executed an affidavit on which the search warrant was issued, is attending Salt Lake College, Utah, and was not present in court. His affidavit was dated June 10, 1965.

On cross examination by Attorney Kaplan, Investigator Mayone said he had never seen Miss Harris use a narcotic. He told Kaplan that he knew Walsh had been an inmate of a mental institution when he discussed the facts and at the time Walsh signed the affidavit.

At the conclusion of the testimony of Investigator Mayone, Kaplan moved to suppress the evidence and for dismissal of the search warrant on the grounds it violated the constitutional rights of defendant.

Miss Harris is under indictment which was returned September 16, 1965, and charges her with possession of marijuana in violation of Section 3305 of the Public Health Law. The case is No. 73 on the present criminal calendar.

Drivers Pay Fines
Four drivers booked on traffic charges paid $45 in fines today in city court. Donald F. Biresch, 23, of 14 Wiley Lane, Woodstock, charged with speeding, paid $20. William Haver, 38, of Hurley, and Alan C. Ducker, 39, of Route 2, Saugerties, also charged with speeding, were fined $10 each. Andrew Bagatta, 19, of North Road, Marlboro, paid $5 on a faulty muffler charge, and Janet Wakely, 23, of 102-B Fairmont Avenue, booked on a traffic light charge, paid $10 Monday.

Seek Hit-Run Driver
Local police today continued search for a hit-and-run driver who struck and damaged a city street light pole in front of 11 Broadway. It had been hit by a car headed down the Broadway hill, was knocked against a building and has since been moved from its base.

Habernig Again Sounds Plea for Medicare Sign-Up

George J. Habernig, district manager, Social Security Administration, announced today that although most area residents 65 years of age or older have already enrolled in the Hospital and Doctor Bill Insurance Program under Social Security (also known as Medicare), there are still a few who for one reason or another, have neglected to follow through and complete applications and furnish necessary evidence to establish their entitlement.

Habernig said that the new deadline for enrolling is May 31, 1966. He is concerned that there may be some area residents who want to enroll but are unable to visit or get in touch with the office. Habernig asked that friends, relatives and neighbors assist these people who want to sign up in the Medicare Program.

He also emphasized that those who are 65 years of age or will be by May 31, 1966 must sign up on or before May 31, 1966 if they want coverage to begin July 1, 1966. Otherwise they will not have another chance to enroll until October 1967 with coverage beginning July 1968.

The Kingston office is open Monday through Friday from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. and on Friday from 5 p. m. until 9 p. m. The office is at 57 Albany Avenue.

TODAY'S THOUGHT
By JIM GILPATRIC

Procrastination, the fault of putting things off until tomorrow, can have a heavy penalty. For example, the return of a book loaned by a friend, is put off — until tomorrow. The letter that should be written to Aunt Jane is put off — until tomorrow. The visit to Uncle Charlie to tell him about some of his friends we saw, is put off — until tomorrow. The drive across town to see a friend is put off — until tomorrow.

Then, unexpectedly, the putting off fault stabs us, and it hurts. It hurts badly. We shake our heads in disbelief. The talk we meant to have, can never now take place. We make our visit but not as it was intended. During visitation hours, we pay our last respects and realize yesterday's tomorrow is now today, and today it is too late.

This of course is an imagined vignette of life, but it can happen. Why let it?

Irene E. Jansen Weds Robert T. Winchell

MRS. ROBERT T. WINCHELL
(H. Pete Powell photo)

On May 14, 1966 at 2 p. m. in St. Mary's Church, this city, marriage vows were exchanged by Irene Elizabeth Jansen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jansen of 105 Hone Street, this city, and Robert Thomas Winchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Winchell of 47 Tmopkins Street, also this city.

Officiating clergyman was the Rev. Edward J. Farrelly, assistant pastor. Theodore Riccobono was organist and Martin Kelly was the soloist.

For her wedding the bride wore a white organza gown with scooped neckline and chapel length skirt. A crown of seed pearls held a shoulder length veil of silk illusion and she carried a prayer book with a corsage of white stephanotis.

Miss Sharon Winchell, the bridegroom's sister, served as maid of honor in a gown of gold and maize crepe. A matching coronet held a short veil and Miss Winchell carried an arrangement of white carnations and mixed daisies.

Bridesmaids were Miss Jeanette Richter, Miss Frances Mar- kile and Miss Barbara Raugier, all of Kingston. Their gowns and flowers were identical to that worn by the honor attendant except in three different colors: hot pink, blue and Nile green.

Miss Bonnie Cwill of Kingston was the junior bridesmaid. She wore a frosted pink silk organza gown in floor length and carried white carnations with mixed daisies.

Vincent Christofora of Woodstock was the best man. Ushers were Herbert Bundy, the bride's brother-in-law; Louis Lange of Kingston; Raymond Ellsworth of Kingston; Raymond Jansen, brother of the bride was the junior usher.

A reception was given in Ray's Riverside Rest at 86 Ferry Street, this city, for approximately 150 guests.

The bride and her husband are graduates of Kingston High School. Mrs. Winchell is employed by Rotron of Woodstock and Mr. Winchell is employed by Hudson Cement of Kingston. The couple will be at home at 171 Sunset Drive in Port Ewen when they return from a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canada.

Hadassah Plans Eye Bank Campaign

Members of the Kingston Chapter of Hadassah will man the business corners of the city Wednesday in their annual "Eye Bank Day" campaign. The drive will raise funds to fight trachoma, a dread eye disease prevalent in the Middle East.

Mayor Raymond W. Garrahan declared Wednesday "Hadassah Eye Bank Day" and granted women of Hadassah permission to collect funds for Hadassah Medical Organization. Meeting with him as the proclamation was signed were Mrs. Sidney Spiegel and Mrs. Irving Scher, co-chairmen of the project.

Hadassah members will be asking local residents to "give to help save an eye." Contributors will wear Hadassah's traditional blue bows to show that they have supported the project.

Hadassah's pioneering research and treatment in the anti-trachoma field has drastically reduced the incidence of the disease in Israel and surrounding countries. One month's treatment of a trachoma patient costs five dollars; the work is carried on through Hadassah clinics, where 250,000 outpatient visits are recorded annually. Hadassah services are offered to people of all races and creeds.

The Lower New York Region of Hadassah will hold its 17th annual spring conference at Tamarack Lodge, Greenfield Park, N. Y., on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 16, 17 and 18.

Regional chairmen for the conference, Mrs. Irving Gold of Hudson and Mrs. Adolf Fried of Beacon, have announced that this conference promises to be the most outstanding.

DON'T FORMENT 5 O'CLOCK FUROR — EXPEDITE THE ELEVATORS

Dear Mrs. Post: I have a pet peeve. I work in a fairly large office building that has self-service elevators. At 5 o'clock everyone makes a mad dash for them and sometimes it is necessary to wait several minutes for one. When the elevator finally arrives, someone will invariably get on and hold the door open for a friend who is down at the other end of the hall, causing more delay. This infuriates me no end as I am sure it does others who have to catch a train. I would appreciate your comments. — Pearl S.

Dear Pearl: It is thoroughly rude and thoughtless to delay the elevator for any reason. I'm sure that every tired commuter will agree with us.

When the Roast Is Carved At the Table

Dear Mrs. Post: When the host is going to carve the roast at the table at a party, what is the proper way to arrange the setting in front of him? — Mrs. Robert F.

Dear Mrs. F.: When the guests are seated, the roast is brought in and set directly in front of the host. The carving implements are found just above his place setting. The pile of plates are to the left of his place, or preferably, left on a warming tray until needed. When he is ready to carve, the platter of meat is moved toward him.

Bride's Face Need Not Be Covered

Dear Mrs. Post: I'm going to be married shortly and am going to wear a white mantilla with my wedding dress. My problem is this: All of the brides I have ever seen have worn veils over their faces when entering the church. I will not be able to do this with my mantilla. Will it be incorrect if I do not have my face covered? — Denise.

Dear Denise: Whether to wear a veil over your face or not is entirely a matter of personal preference. If it isn't becoming with your white lace mantilla (which sounds lovely) there is no requirement that you wear one.

Details concerning the announcing and christening of a baby are described in the booklet entitled, "The New Baby." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Elizabeth L. Post in care of The Freeman.

SAFETY: First, Last and Always

Properly used, a bicycle is a delight. Misused, it can be something else again — a cause for injury and even death. Of more than 30 million children wheeling along streets and highways during vacation months this year, some 30,000 are likely to be injured in accidents — 425 fatally, judging by statistics of past years. Most common accident cause is collision with motor vehicles, a survey by a brake manufacturer, Bendix Corp., shows. The best way to play safe is by observing basic dos and don'ts of sensible cycling.

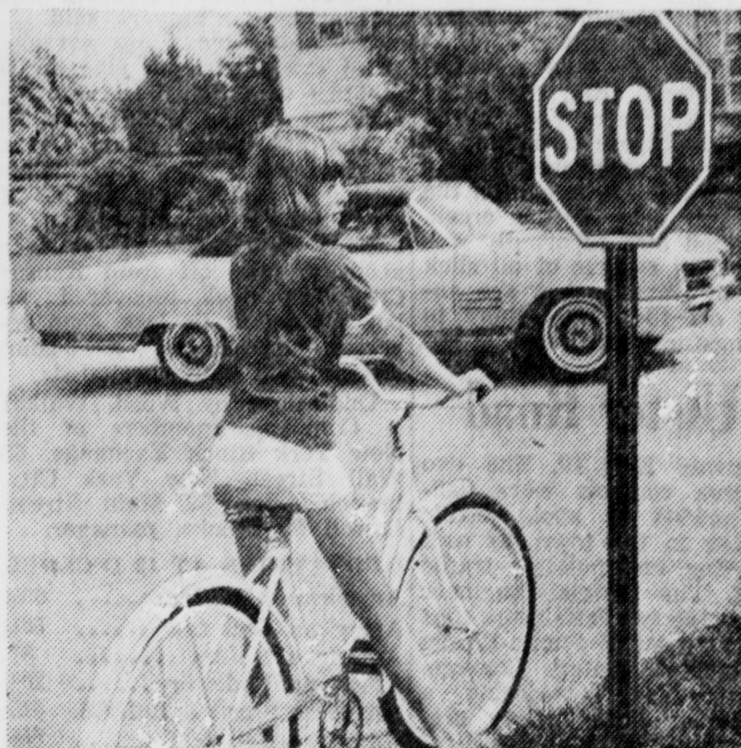

DON'T —ride more than two abreast, Indian-file is best. Road-hogging is unsafe and discourteous.

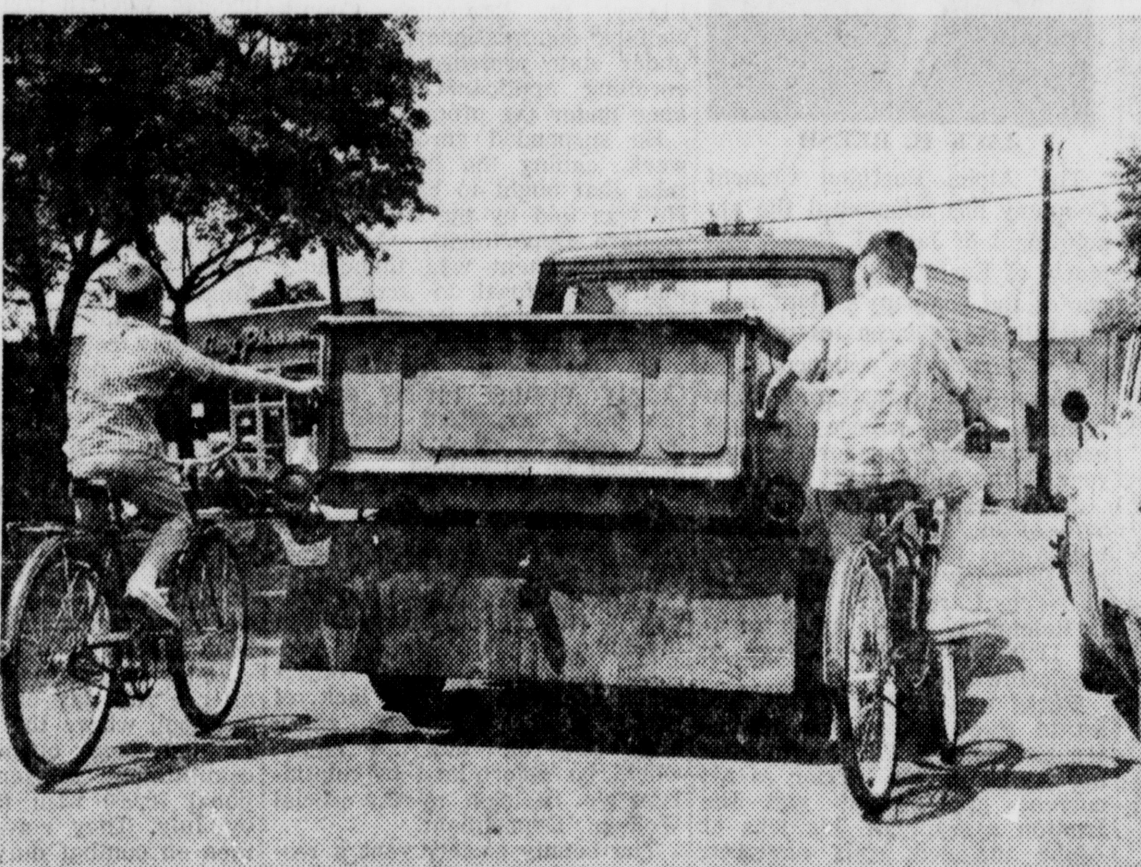

—dart without stopping out of driveways and between parked cars, or carry another person. "Piggybacking" makes balance and steering uncertain.

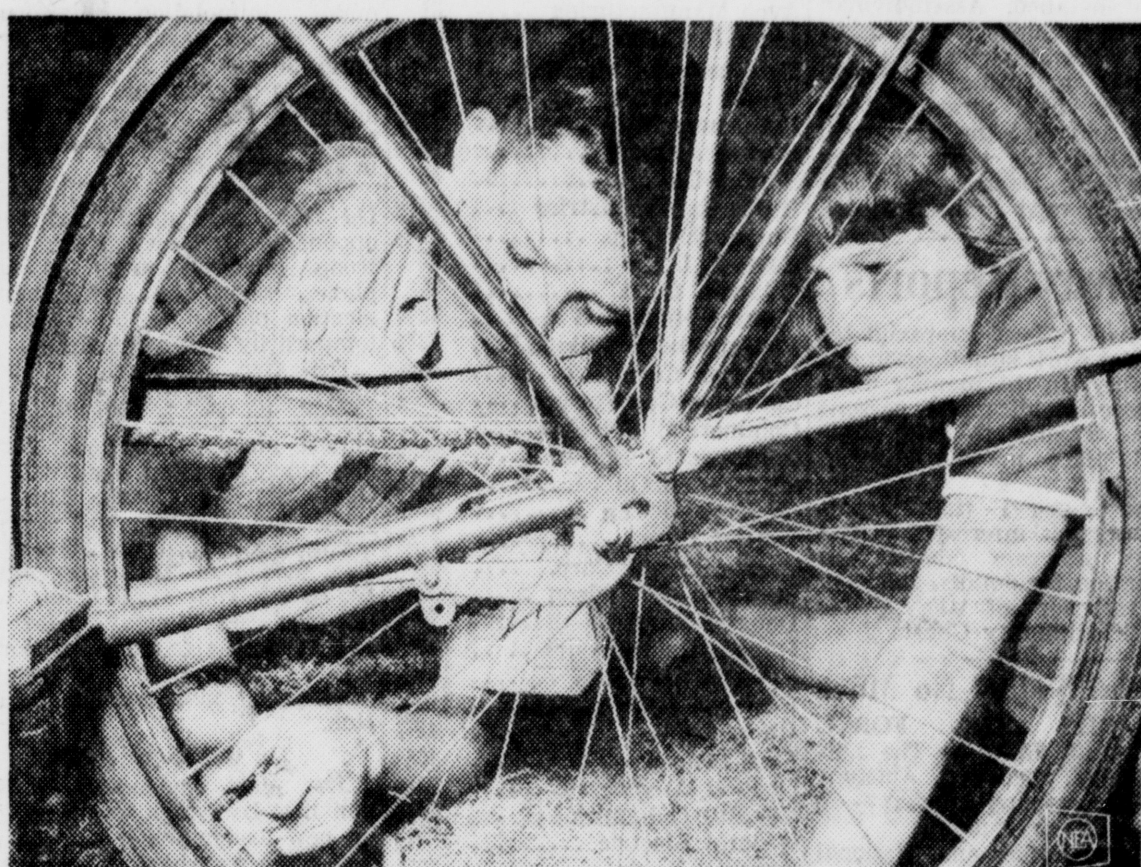

DO —know and obey traffic regulations, including conventional hand signals to let drivers know your intentions.

—stop at all stop signs and traffic signals. Ride only on the right side of the street and in a straight line.

—hitch rides on other vehicles. "Tailgating," one of the most dangerous of all bad bike habits, caused many of the 27,600 accidents last year resulting in serious injury and death.

—check out all a bike's mechanical parts regularly, at least every few weeks and particularly before long trips. Keep it clean and oil moving parts regularly.

See Election MoveBy SNCC to Third Party for Negroes

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A militant civil rights worker who organized Alabama's all-Negro Black Panther political party has taken over as chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

He is Stokely Carmichael, 24, of New York who said the organization planned to "intensify its efforts in the area of independent politics."

"For Negroes to join the Democratic party in Alabama is the equivalent of Jews joining the Nkhi party," Carmichael said Monday night.

Some observers regarded Carmichael's election as a move by SNCC toward third-party politics for Southern Negroes.

Carmichael, a Howard University graduate and one of the original Freedom Riders who protested segregation on interstate transportation facilities, replaced John Lewis, 25, SNCC chairman since 1962.

SNCC officials also announced James Forman, 37, executive secretary since 1961, has been replaced by Ruby Robinson, 23, a mother of one. Mrs. Robinson, a native of Alabama, has been active in civil rights activities in Mississippi.

Officers said the changes were made at the SNCC staff's annual spring conference last Friday at Nashville, Tenn.

None of the SNCC officers was available for comment.

Ex-Greene County Girl to Vie for Miss Universe

NEW YORK (AP) — Nancy Self, the newly crowned Miss New York State, files to Miami today to enter the Miss Universe contest.

Nancy, 25, a secretary for the New Yorker magazine, won the Miss New York State title and the right to compete in the Miss Universe contest Monday night in the Latin Quarter nightclub.

She was Miss Albany in the state competition and is originally from Athens, N.Y. She has been living in New York City, where she recently started modeling in addition to her job as a secretary.

Nancy, 35-23-33, won the Miss New York State crown over 34 finalists.

Susan Miller, 21, Miss Nassau, of Seaford, N.Y., was runner up.

Paltz Teener Faces Burglary Charge

A New Paltz teenage youth has been paroled into the custody of a clergyman for a preliminary hearing June 17 on a third degree burglary charge in connection with the theft of $20 from a dormitory room at State University College at New Paltz. Ronald Norman Lunan, 16, of 25 Prospect Avenue, New Paltz, was arrested by Investigator Roger Gardner of the State Police BCI after investigation by Patrolman Silas Countryman and the New Paltz Police Department. The youth appeared before Peace Justice Rexford Schneider, Town of New Paltz. Police charged that he took the money from a dormitory room at Gage Hall on the SUC campus, New Paltz.

U. S. News Editors Open Sessions in Montreal Today

MONTREAL (AP)—The American Society of Newspaper Editors opened a three-day 1966 convention today as 19 local organizations pushed plans for a demonstration against an appearance before the editors of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Most of the 500 American and Canadian editors attending the society's first convention outside the United States paid little attention to newspaper reports of the protest planned for tonight.

McNamara is scheduled to address the editors at a luncheon Wednesday.

The convention program today included panel discussions on Red China by Canadian correspondents who have been there, and on bilingualism and biculturalism in Canada.

The main speaker of the day was Quebec Premier Jean Lesage.

Other Canadians scheduled to address the convention include Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson and former Prime Minister John Diefenbaker.

Most of the visiting editors arrived Monday to register and attend a reception Monday night. About 60 Canadian editors are guests of the society.

Insists GE Talk With 8 Unions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO insisted today that General Electric Co. enter into joint negotiations with eight unions seeking to coordinate nationwide bargaining for the firm's workers.

Responding to GE's refusal to meet with an eight-union bargaining group, an AFL-CIO spokesman said "We have the right to have anybody we damn well want" participate in the talks.

Chief company negotiator Philip D. Moore warned that the union tactics could bring on a major strike in the electrical industry this fall.

Moore, in a letter to John H. Callahan of the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, accused the union of "subterfuge" in naming representatives of the seven other unions as advisors on an IUE negotiating committee.

The IUE and the seven other unions, trying to bargain for more than 180,000 GE and Westinghouse Electric Corp. workers, are drafting what reportedly will be a stiff reply to Moore's letter.

The eight unions are seeking a substantial boost in estimated average wages of $2.80 per hour at GE and Westinghouse. The figure rises to $3.25 per hour when fringe benefits are added, according to union estimates.

The seven other unions in the joint bargaining effort are the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, United Auto Workers, International Association of Machinists, Sheet Metal Workers, Allied Industrial Workers, Federation of Technical Engineers and American Flint Glass Workers. They are backed by AFL-CIO President George Meany.

Day Camp Set To Open June 27 In Katrine Area

Catholic Day Camp offered by St. Catherine Laboure Church, Lake Katrine will start its summer season June 27.

Registration is taking place this week. Applications may be obtained from Catholic school principals; School of Religion principals for children attending public school, or by writing the sponsoring church.

The eight-week program is for boys and girls 6 to 14 years of age. The camp center is on 95 acres of property bordering Esopus Creek and County Road No. 41 near the Plattekill Creek.

Activities Listed
Activities include swimming, organized games, movies, contests, hikes, nature study and possible overnight campouts. Special events are planned for each week.

Operation of the camp is supervised by an advisory board of interested lay people in St. Catherine's parish, Mr. and Mrs. Edward McCann, owners of the camp and the Rev. James J. LeBar, assistant pastor of the sponsoring church. Staff is made up of a camp director and qualified counselors.

Registration fee will accompany application. Camp fees are payable in advance. Campers will bring their own lunch. Boys will wear the official camp T-shirt with blue or other dark colored shorts. Girls will wear light skirt or blouse and blue or other dark shorts.

Dutchess Girl Hurt In Bike-Car Crash

A six-year-old Dutchess County girl was injured when the bicycle she was riding collided with a car about 3:10 p. m. Monday on the Old Post Road in Staatsburg in that county.

State police at the Rhinebeck-Hyde Park substation said that Nanette Gross, of East Elm Avenue, Staatsburg, was taken to the Northern Dutchess Hospital, Rhinebeck, for treatment of right leg cuts. They said that Clarence Stone, 69, of Staatsburg, was driving on the Old Post Road in the same direction as the girl bicyclist when she pulled in front of the car, was struck and fell to the ground. She was taken to the hospital by her mother.

Trooper H. J. McNallen of the Rhinebeck-Hyde Park substation investigated.

Steamer Overdue

MANILA (AP) — The fate of 262 persons aboard a Philippine interisland steamer remained a mystery today after a rescue vessel failed to find her.

The 740-ton Pioneer Cebu was reported driven aground by Typhoon Irma on Malapascua or Teopion islands but her sister ship, the Pioneer Tacloban found no trace of her there.

The Pioneer Tacloban also reported that a ship spotted by a U.S. Air Force plane off Teopion was a coastal steamer stranded and abandoned several months ago. She was at first believed to be the Pioneer Cebu.

Both the Pioneer Cebu and the Pioneer Tacloban are owned by Filipinas Pioneer Lines. The firm said earlier it had a report from a businessman that the Pioneer Cebu was intact and her passengers apparently safe after she was pounded against a reef.

Car Taken From Plaza

Local police were notified Monday of the theft of a car owned by Verna C. Longendyke, of Box 295-B, Kingston, from Kingston Plaza. It is a 1961 four-door black sedan bearing license plates UC-6528.

15-Acre Tract Work Underway Near Connelly On Marina Site

Construction is underway for a modern marina facility on the south side of Rondout Creek near Connelly, it was learned today.

E. Cordon Baxter, general manager, told The Freeman exclusively that the facility, consisting of about 15 acres, was being developed by the Rondout Marine Inc., of Connelly. He said that it was hoped that the marina would be open in about two weeks.

Baxter said that the modern development would consist of floats, electrical and laundry machines, washing and shower facilities and other means to accommodate area tourists. He said that it was also hoped that in the near future the project would include a modern motel facility with restaurant and bar and swimming facilities.

Meanwhile, it was reported that an official from the Army Corps of Engineers was in the area to investigate ownership of a number of abandoned barges burned several weeks ago on the Port Ewen side of the creek. The official also reportedly was investigating reports of oil slick caused by vessels that are anchoring off the Creek shore in the Kingston-Port Ewen area.

of Thruway Exit 19. The two said these controls were definitely needed to avoid traffic congestion in the town, as well as averting any possible traffic mishaps. The District Engineer informed the two legislators that the Department of Public Works and the State Safety Commission are now considering a traffic survey along Albany Avenue Extension in the vicinity of Morton Boulevard, and if the survey shows that a traffic control signal is required there, one will be installed. Assemblyman Wilson and Supervisor Musialkiewicz were also pleased to report that a traffic light for Route 28 has already been ordered, and that the signal will be installed this year between the Big Scot Department Store and the Howard Johnson Motel.

Peaceful Valley No More

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The normally quiet, peaceful Antelope Valley is expecting a boom — in fact, a number of them.

The Air Force and National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the giant XB70A experimental bomber and other bombers will be used starting June 1 for a three-month study of sonic booms and jet noise. Structures, including two specially instrumented houses, and people in nearby communities will be used in this latest study of effect and reaction.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was higher early this afternoon even though a lively rally hesitated on news of the failure of the Agena satellite to achieve orbit, ruining the Gemini 9 mission.

The market was moving up strongly when news of the Gemini failure came. Wall Street hesitated, trading slowed and some of the aerospace issues weakened.

By noon, however, the trend was still higher. The Dow Jones industrial average showing a gain of 3.90 at $71.43.

The rally, after a series of jolting declines, was regarded as technical in nature, no big change having occurred in the economic news.

The market was mixed at the start, with the averages drifting slightly. The list held its ground fairly well, so bargain hunters began coming in to pick up stock at the relatively low current levels, brokers said.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .5 at 316.9 with industrials up 1.4, rails off .5 and utilities up .3.

The aerospace group was handicapped at the start when Boeing opened with a decline of 4 points on news of a mishap to one of its airliner as it was about to take off from Kansas City. The stock recovered all but a point of its loss, then reversed and showed a 3-point loss as the rally hesitated.

Approximately 100 persons including church and city officials attended. Shaver read a brief history of the church during its 34 years in Kingston. The Rev. Thomas Younce, president of the Hudson Valley Evangelical Ministerial Association, pronounced the benediction. Greetings from the 12th Ward and the city were presented by Koenig and Machione. Also participating in the ceremonies were Arthur Hansen and the Alliance quartet. The Rev. Mr. Osborne said excavation and construction is expected to begin this week. (Freeman photo by Kruh) a block of each pagoda but made no efforts to drive the insurgents out.

Monks Threaten

Venerable Thien Minh, regarded as a spokesman for the most militant monk, Thich Tri Quang, told a Buddhist rally in Saigon that "There is a plot to assassinate all Buddhists."

He demanded quick withdrawal of government troops from Da Nang and "an immediate solution" to the problem of restoring civilian rule.

Ready for Sacrifices

As the rain poured down on the open air rally, Minh added: "All monks will sacrifice themselves to strike against the government."

At a major pagoda in Da Nang, wood was piled up to make immolation platforms. The monks said they were ready to set fire to themselves, as seven of them did during the agitation that caused the downfall of President Ngo Dinh Diem in November 1963.

Ky threatened to "liberate" Da Nang last month from his opponents but withdrew 4,000 troops airlifted there in U.S. planes when the government's election pledge to the Buddhists temporarily eased the crisis.

The five northern provinces under the jurisdiction of the army's 1st Corps have been in almost an open state of rebellion since Ky fired his rival, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, as corps commander and virtual northern overlord on March 10. The second of Thi's successors, Lt. Gen. Ton That Dinh, was removed on Sunday after he appeared to side with the northern Buddhist-led "struggle movement" in a broadcast from Hue.

To Get New Posts

The junta announced in Saigon that both men would be given new assignments, but did not say when or where. The government also disclosed that an armed forces congress on Sunday issued instructions to all four corps commanders to preserve public security and order "so as to create an atmosphere favorable to preparations for the forthcoming election of a constituent assembly."

Ky has said this assembly will draft a constitution under which a civilian government could be elected next year. He said he will hold onto power until then, although the Buddhists obviously hope for civilian rule earlier.

Despite the possibility that Buddhist leaders might send mobs into the streets again, Saigon appeared to take the latest crisis with outward calm. The city's labor unions ended a strike that had curtailed port operations and most public transportation Monday after the government relieved a district police chief under attack by the union leaders.

The General Labor Federation also had threatened to disrupt electric and water service in Saigon. The walkout stemmed from charges of police brutality in the arrest of two women workers. They have been released.

U.S. officials were playing a backstage role in the political crisis, under orders from Washington to try to persuade both sides away from civil strife.

Name Plant Head At Alpha Cement

JACK H. REESE

The Alpha Portland Cement Company has announced the appointment of Jack H. Reese, formerly of Easton, as plant manager of the company's plant near Catskill. He replaces Joseph Wilson who recently resigned.

Reese was transferred from Ironton, Ohio, where he had been plant engineer for the past year at the Alpha plant there.

After serving in the United States Navy for three years during World War 2, Reese earned his Bachelor of Science degree at North Carolina State College in Raleigh, N. C. He also attended Delaware Valley College in Doylestown, Pa.

Reese is supervisor of real estate re-evaluation for Northampton County, Pa., before joining Alpha in 1955. Prior to his current appointment and the Ironton assignment, his jobs at Alpha included staff engineer, property engineer, combustion engineer and industrial engineer.

Reese and his wife, the former Jean Grifo, and three sons, Michael, John and Paul, will live in the Saugerties area.

List Operation Results

The U.S. command listed these results for the 1st Infantry Division's Operation Birmingham which began April 24 and ended Tuesday:

116 Viet Cong killed, 28 captured and 128 weapons seized.

66 base camps made up of huts and fortifications destroyed.

Six aid stations, three hospitals and 814 buildings and huts destroyed.

Food stores seized included 2-103 tons of rice, 324 tons of salt, 30 tons of wheat and 1,240 gallons of cooking oil.

Enemy equipment seized included 7,050 uniforms, 1,200 pairs of sandals, 1,850 shirts, 1,800 shorts and 2,540 pieces of other clothing.

he said, in "confusion, suspicion and chaos."

Assemblyman Lloyd J. Long, R-Tonawanda, called for suspension of medicare until "conditions are clarified and better understood."

Theodore Maurer, city manager of Poughkeepsie, described it as "threatening every economy we are trying to effect in order to keep a stable tax rate."

He called the law a "political farce."

U.S. Rep. Richard D. McCarty, a Democrat from Buffalo, said the state had "gone far beyond the intent of Congress" in providing financial assistance to the "medically indigent."

Meanwhile, in Canton, Lee P. Finley, St. Lawrence County welfare commissioner, agreed, under state pressure, to resume enrolling applicants for assistance under the program.

He suspended enrollment last week, calling the law "a mistake that ought to be clarified."

He was told by the State Social Welfare Department, however, that enrollment was mandatory and any refusal to accept applications would jeopardize the federally aided plan.

In Rochester, the Monroe County Medical Society tagged the plan "socialized medicine" and asked Monday that its enactment be suspended.

Dr. Charles D. Sherman, society president, raised the common complaint of doctors, saying:

"What they've done is to convert a welfare bill to socialized medicine."

Rise in Low-Priced Stock Rarely Is Foreseen

Q "My problem is shared by many — having a little money and trying to get more. Just over a year ago, we had all our money in cash savings. We talked with a stock broker and on his advice we bought Lehigh Portland Cement for growth but the price went down sharply. Should we sell this stock and invest in something to recover the loss, and if so, what? Over the past year we have seen several low-price stocks sell much higher. Why does this happen and how does one learn the reason in advance, so he can profit by it?"

C. S.

A) I am sorry that you were poorly advised. The cements are one major segment of our economy which has been going steadily down hill for years because of serious overcapacity. In your place, I would switch Lehigh into Cenco Instruments—a high-grade science issue which should more quickly bring you some growth gains.

I regret that I can give you no easy formula to spot the few winners among the hundreds of low-priced stocks on the major exchanges. Rises come generally because of a merger, earnings gains or both, and the information is rarely available — except to insiders — until after the shares have moved higher.

Q "Will you please explain to us why bonds protect against a downturn in the market. Do bonds go up when stocks go down?"

M. K.

A) It is not necessarily true that bonds go up when stocks go down, although they often do. Bonds have been declining in price for some years now on higher money rates, while stocks in general have risen. It is true that at the current level the return on bonds is the highest in a great many years and the disparity between bond and stock yields is unusually large.

For these reasons, I now recommend a moderate proportion of bonds as a good backlog for any stock list.

U.S. Will Support

most important military and political areas. But the wisdom of taking the action he did in seizing the town without U.S. consultation is questioned.

Many experts here contend that Ky's action will do more harm than good by stimulating the Buddhists to all-out opposition. Others say that it will give Ky an opportunity to re-establish law and order before elections are held for a constitution-making body.

After that election, it is still unclear when a civilian government may be formed, officials say.

Use Political Means

It is agreed by the President's top advisers that North Vietnam is doing everything it can to encourage divisions and dissensions in the South. At the present time, it is possible to cause more trouble for the Americans by political means than by military action, Hanoi reportedly believes.

Officials here concede that Thich Tri Quang, the Buddhist political leader, is totally committed to the downfall of the Ky government. It is less clear, they say, what kind of government Tri Quang would like to see in power.

It also is not yet clear whether Ky's move has disrupted the election machinery which had been agreed upon by Tri Quang. Lodge is due in Saigon Friday after a full day of consultations in Seoul, where the Korean government faces opposition for its commitment to send an additional 20,000 men to Vietnam by July. They now have 20,000 men on combat duty there.

Feted at Dinner

Monday night Lodge and his wife were feted at a dinner party thrown by Johnson "as an expression of gratitude," a White House spokesman said.

Before heading back to Saigon, Lodge gave a final briefing Monday to members of the House Foreign Affairs and Appropriations committees. The members had little specifically to say about Lodge's report but one congressman said the ambassador's over-all tone was optimistic. He said Lodge still expressed belief there would be elections in Vietnam this year.

In the Senate, Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, ranking Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee, agreed with Fulbright that new Viet Nam hearings are needed — but went a step further.

Hearings are not only needed, he said, "they are needed very soon."

The committee is supposed to be debating the administration's $3.4-billion foreign aid authorization, but the bill apparently is in for a stormy time.

Insists on Quorum

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., an outspoken critic of administration foreign policy, told the committee Monday he would use all the parliamentary weapons at his command to assure that no action is taken on the measure unless

Bloomington Fire Fighters To Note 25th Anniversary

The 25th Anniversary Committee of the Bloomington Fire Company Inc., reported at the May meeting that they have planned an open house to be held on Sunday starting at 1:00 p. m. At 2:00 p. m., a fire demonstration will be held, after which a film of public interest will be shown. Refreshments will be served by the Ladies' Auxiliary. The public is invited to inspect the fire apparatus, equipment, and the firehouse.

Company president Charles Peterson said, "through the efforts of the old and the new members and the Ladies' Auxiliary, the Bloomington Fire Co. is able to celebrate their twenty-fifth anniversary this month. The members of the fire company wish to thank the people of the fire district for their support these past years."

Two Join Company

Peterson reported that Mattie Zanni and Conrad Hoppe have been added to the life membership roll. It was also reported that the fire company bulletin board has been erected at Les Evory's Store and is available to all local organizations.

A communication was received from Chief Robert Fresch of the Rosendale Fire Dept. that an Essentials of Firemanship Course will be held June 8, starting at 8 p. m. at Rosendale. He invited any member who wanted to take part in the school to attend. George Garrison will be the instructor.

Evory, chairman of the Spring Dance Committee, reported that the spring dance and buffet dinner will be held June 4 at the Alpine.

It was also noted to attend the annual Memorial Day parade in Rosendale on May 30. Members are requested to meet at the firehouse at 9:15 a. m. in uniform to go to Tillson.

The Parade Committee reported that the La Grangeville Fire Department fire and drum corps has been contracted to lead the department in the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association parade in July in Kingston.

On Tuesday, the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association meeting will also be held at Bloomington.

THAT BIG JUNKYARD IN THE SKY—As of the end of April 1966, NASA tracking computers counted 1,061 known earth objects floating around in space. Of these, 19 are deep-space or planet probes orbiting the sun (10 Russian; 9 American). Of the other 1,042 objects in earth orbit, 222 are satellites belonging to five countries, as shown in News-Graphic above. The rest are classified as "junk"—rocket casings, heat shields, ejection springs, separation bolts and at least one nonmetallic object, the glove left behind by astronaut Edward White last year. The First Lady won't have to launch a space beautification program, however, because all these satellites and debris will eventually be pulled closer and closer to the atmosphere and incinerate themselves. NASA estimates that 129 American and 598 Russian pieces of junk have burned up since the start of the space age.

Will Remember Two Astronauts Killed in Crash

By RONALD THOMPSON

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The story of Gemini 9 has a tragic chapter. Two young astronauts originally picked to fly the mission died Feb. 28 in a flaming jet crash only a few feet from their spacecraft.

Air Force Lt. Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Eugene A. Cernan stepped up to prime pilots' jobs under a long-standing space agency policy of having two trained crews for each space mission.

Had Trained Together

They had trained side by side with Elliot M. See Jr., a civilian, and Air Force Maj. Charles A. Bassett II, two rookie spacemen who looked forward to their maiden orbital voyage. Bassett had been picked to make the space walk.

Cernan now will take the walk, a 2-hour, 25-minute jaunt through space using a sophisticated backpack with 12 small rockets to maneuver him. Bassett, 34, and See, 38, perished on a low-overcast morning when approaching a St. Louis, Mo., airport adjacent to the McDonnell Aircraft Corp., builder of Gemini spacecraft.

Jet Crashes

The jet, piloted by See, crashed into a building that housed Gemini 9, which was undergoing final inspection prior to being shipped to Cape Kennedy. Findings of the investigators who probed the crash have not been released.

There has been no official mention of dedicating the flight of Gemini 9 to the memory of its original crew. However, Stafford and Cernan planned to take mementos from the Bassett and See families on their space trip. What the mementos are has not been disclosed.

An alternate pilot has taken over only once before. Navy Cmdr. M. Scott Carpenter flew the nation's fourth Mercury flight after doctors detected a slight heart condition in Donald K. Slayton, the original prime pilot.

Cernan said he had "no real big catching-up to do" after finding himself the prime pilot beside Stafford, the command pilot.

Legislative Bill Would Save Home

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A 103-year-old woman had the backing of the Assembly today in her refusal to pay any more property taxes, even though she faces eviction from her New York City home.

The legislators threw their support to Mrs. Mary Callaghan Purcell Monday by unanimously passing a bill that would exempt persons over 100 years old from paying property taxes if they had lived in their homes for more than 25 years.

The measure was sent to the Senate. It was drafted last month after newspaper stories portrayed the plight of Mrs. Purcell, who is about $2,000 in arrears on taxes on her home in Queens.

She maintains that she paid enough taxes in her lifetime and simply was not going to pay any more. The city seeks to evict Mrs. Purcell and sell her home at auction. She would receive the proceeds, minus the amount owed in back taxes.

If the measure gains Senate passage and Gov. Rockefeller's approval, it would be retroactive to Dec. 31, 1960, when Mrs. Purcell stopped paying taxes. Other centenarians who did pay their taxes presumably would be eligible for a refund.

Tricks Claimed Much Too Soon

By JACOBY & SON
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Today's hand came from a New York reader with the request that we settle an argument about the laws of contract.

He writes, "I guess I must have been too excited about my big hand. Anyway, I checked for aces and kings and got to seven no-trump in a lot less time than it takes to tell you about it. West opened the jack of clubs and I counted 13 tricks. Five spades, slam on a technicality. What is your opinion?"

Our opinion is that the rule did work an injustice on South but laws are laws. So many arguments arise from premature claims that we strongly advise anyone to be absolutely sure of himself before making and claim at all.

It is unfortunate that South did not play the hand out. The laws prohibit any finesse after a claim but if South had played on, he could have made his contract without a finesse. South could take six tricks in hearts and clubs before going after spades and diamonds. That would bring West down to seven cards and he would have to unguard his queen of diamonds in order to hold on to all five spades. That would give South a third diamond trick and his grand slam.

four hearts and two each in diamonds and clubs. So I spread my hand and claimed my grand slam.

"West looked my hand over carefully and announced that he held all five spades and the guarded queen of diamonds and I would be down one because I only had four spade tricks. I replied that I would lead out my ace of spades and would have a proven finesse after East showed out on the first spade lead. West contended that I could not finesse since the finesse was not proven at the time of the claim. The laws seem to bear him out but it seems very unfair to me that I am deprived of a grand

Seamen Warns Wilson on Use Of Royal Navy

LONDON (AP) — The National Union of Seamen warned Prime Minister Harold Wilson today it will take counteraction if he uses the Royal Navy to break the two-day-old seamen's strike.

As ships piled up in British ports, Bill Hogarth, general secretary of the 65,000-member union, said the seamen would let the navy move vessels from congested berths to "parking" areas.

But he added: "If the government tries to use the navy to move ships to another port for loading or for anything else which looks like a blockade, we will immediately ask the dockers to black those ships."

Red Cross Plans to Increase Help in Viet Nam War

Mrs. Donald Snell, volunteer chairman for Service to Military Families of the Ulster County Chapter of the American Red Cross, reported today that nearly 300 emergency welfare messages a day — well over 100 thousand a year — are sent to and from South Vietnam by the American Red Cross on behalf of U. S. fighting men there. The ARC handled half a million such messages last year, including those sent to and from Europe, the Far East, and other places where American troops are stationed.

All such messages are delivered with the utmost speed possible. The sheer numbers are an indication of the upswing of services to American forces in Southeast Asia.

Working in close cooperation with Service to Military Families in Red Cross chapters, field directors and their assistants stationed with the armed forces help servicemen with personal and family problems, with emergency communications, and with financial assistance when necessary. Red Cross workers also conduct recreation programs in hospitals and for the able-bodied with center and clubmobile operations.

In addition to providing services for American troops in South Vietnam, the American Red Cross is expanding its help for civilians uprooted by the fighting there. The latest such assistance came with the announcement of a new 11-point program following ARC survey of the area and consultations with the South Vietnamese Red Cross.

In addition to seeking large quantities of donated material, including medical supplies, ARC plans to ship 150,000 more friendship boxes and kits, and 1500 school chests having a value of $430,000.

Other assistance includes provision for a nursing instructor, first aid supplies and financial support for training first aid teams, 25,000 layettes, which ARC chapters have been asked to secure, and donation of two ambulances, four wheelchairs, and 40 beds or cots for civilian amputees. The first of six monthly shipments of 1000 cases of sweetened condensed milk to be given Vietnamese children on a prescription basis was sent from San Francisco last month.

Including the value of donated items, the new program will bring the dollar value of ARC aid to South Vietnam, which dates back to 1954, to over $1½ million.

Several Ulster County organizations are actively participating in these projects in cooperation with the Ulster County Chapter of the Red Cross. Packing friendship boxes and kits for the children of Vietnam are children from the Saugerties High School and the Kingston Jewish Community Center. Local organizations are daily agreeing to provide layettes. Those working on this project include the following:

St. Mary's Church Girl Scout Troops, Kingston; Stone Ridge W.S.C.S., Woodstock Reformed Church Guild for Christian Service; Katsbaan Reformed Church Ladies Aid; Blue Mt. Reformed Church Ladies Aid; St. John's Parish Aid Society, Ellenville; Cottekill Reformed Church Women's Guild; Church of Redeemer Lutheran Church Guild, Kingston; Clinton Avenue Methodist Church Gem Society, Kingston and the First Presbyterian Church Fellowship Guild, Kingston.

It is planned to distribute the layettes to the thousands of homeless through maternity and other hospitals in Saigon and in the provinces. Arrangements have been worked out with the doctors and social workers in medical institutions so that only families with the greatest need will receive these layettes for newborn children. In keeping with Red Cross policy, no charge is made for any of these services.

The Ulster County Chapter of the American Red Cross is a member of the Ulster County Community Chest.

Jail Ex-Cabbie In Slaying of Leftist Worker

DETROIT (AP) — A former taxicab driver who police said shot a member of the leftist Socialist Workers party in downtown Detroit. Two college students described as members of the Young Socialist Alliance were also shot Monday in the party's office here, one of them critically wounded.

Police jailed Edward Wanioliek, 40, Detroit, and said they would seek a murder warrant against him.

Wanioliek was seized four hours after the slaying of Leo Bernard, 28, and wounding of Jan Edward Garrett, 22, and Walter Graham, 19, all of Detroit. He surrendered meekly in a library.

Bernard, who was dead on arrival at a Detroit hospital, was shot once in the head. Garrett and Graham, students at Wayne State University, each were shot four times with an automatic pistol.

Graham was hospitalized in critical condition; Garrett was described as fair.

The shootings occurred in the Eugene V. Debs Hall, named for the onetime Socialist Workers presidential candidate.

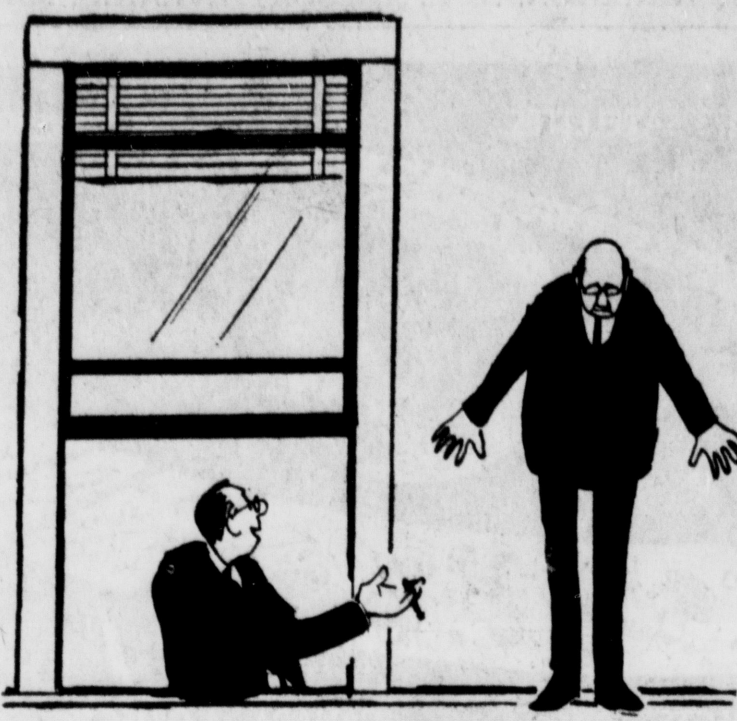

Challenges Selma Ballots

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Dallas County's Democratic Executive Committee was called into court today to show why it took 1,400 votes away from Wilson Baker in the sheriff's race.

In the first suit filed under the new Voting Rights Act, the Justice Department sought a federal court order to give Baker, a racial moderate, the Democratic nomination over segregationist Sheriff James G. Clark. The challenged ballots cast in the May 3 primary would have given the former Selma public safety director the nomination without a runoff, but the county committee threw them out. Baker still led Clark and two other opponents, but faced another showdown with the six-foot, 220-pound sheriff in a second primary May 31.

Legislators Will Get Pleas Today On Gotham Plans

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller and Republican leaders of the Legislature sought today to hammer out amendments to the state's new medicare law in an effort to still public furor over the program.

Aroused by criticism from medical organizations, physicians and county welfare commissioners, the GOP high command dispatched a delegation of legislators to New York City to confer on the matter with the State Social Welfare Board.

Some Changes in Store

Meanwhile, the Republican leadership took a hard look at the medical assistance statute enacted last month and indicated some proposed changes were in store.

Informed sources said a high-level Republican conference Monday concluded that some possible revisions should be given close consideration.

While the medicare uproar occupied much of the attention on Capitol Hill, legislative leaders kept part of their calendars clear today for a meeting with New York City's Deputy Mayor, Robert Price, on the question of the city's tax proposals.

Mayor John V. Lindsay sent Price to plead for passage of the city administration's $520-million tax program.

Sen. Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges told reporters that his GOP colleagues in the Legislature had reached general agreement on passage—at this point—of only one segment of the Lindsay package.

The majority leader said that the Senate probably would approve next week the mayor's proposal to achieve a net revenue increase of $70 million by replacing the city's gross receipts tax with a new tax on business income.

The medicare problem — and other matters — kept Rockefeller closeted for more than two hours Monday with Brydges and Perry B. Duryea, Assembly minority leader. The Legislature's ranking Democrats — Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia and Senate Minority Leader Joseph Zaretzki — also met with their Republican counterparts after Rockefeller departed to keep a speaking engagement.

Apologies for Tenseness

The governor emerged from the conference to appear before an Upstate group supporting his quest for a third term. "I apologize for being so tense," Rockefeller told the Rural Citizens for Rockefeller. "I wish I were more relaxed."

Under terms of the law that took effect April 30, up to 40 per cent of New York's population could be eligible for government financial help with doctors' and hospital bills.

Among the main topics of discussion at the GOP leadership conclave were proposed changes in the medicare law presented by Sen. William E. Adams, R-Tonawanda, chairman of the Senate Committee on Social Services. Adams had been the floor pilot of the governor's program when it was placed before the Senate last month.

Adams declined Monday to say what his amendments would do, but he told reporters:

None-Earth Shattering

"I don't think any of them are earth-shattering."

Later, on the Senate floor, Brydges said there had been "some misunderstanding" over the medicare plan. For that reason, he said, he and Zaretzki were sending five senators to the Social Welfare Board meeting.

Duryea named three Republicans from his house to attend, along with any emissaries designated by Travia.

After Brydges had announced his action, Zaretzki said he had chosen his delegates to attend the meeting "with instructions not to be frightened by all of the misinformation printed in the newspapers" about the medicare program.

The Democratic leader said that even if 8 million residents should become eligible immediately for medical benefits—and he voiced doubt there would be that many — "the most it can cost the state of New York is $142 million."

Brydges said the legislators sent to New York would review with the board "the figures on cost estimates and the number of eligible persons advanced by the board prior to the enactment of the law, and the conflicting figures advanced by local governmental officials and other usually responsible sources."

Engelbert Humperdinck, German composer, was born in 1854.

Measure to Save 'Met' With Rocky

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A measure to preserve the Metropolitan Opera House from destruction was on Gov. Rockefeller's desk today, accompanied by unexpected criticism of the bill from the general manager of the Opera.

The bill was rushed through the Assembly Monday and sent to the governor, despite opponents who said its approach was wrong and it would fail to save the historic building.

The measure, approved by the Senate last week, would set up the Old Met Opera House Corp., with the power to buy the building or acquire it through condemnation from its present owners.

Bing Critical

Meanwhile, in New York Rudolph Bing, general manager of the Metropolitan Opera, said Monday that groups trying to save the building "may well succeed in the process in killing the company that made the building what it was."

"Politicians who have never dared the door of the Metropolitan Opera, and suddenly throwing around hollow phrases about saving culture, blissfully unaware that they may be about to destroy it."

Bing commented on the rescue attempts after receiving a honorary degree of doctor of humane letters from New York University in a ceremony at the NYU Institute of Fine Arts.

"At the present moment in New York, Alas, art meets politics. It is a sad spectacle to see in the hunt for publicity, ignorance and irresponsibility combined."

Under terms of the legislation, the corporation would have to raise the purchase price, estimated to be $18 million, from donations and similar sources.

Critics of the legislation maintain that no private group can raise that amount of money in time to save the building, which is not in use and is slated to be replaced by an office building.

Could Delay Demolition

The measure provides, however, that, if the corporation can produce $200,000 as security, the city superintendent of buildings may withhold a demolition permit for six months, until the balance of the purchase price is produced.

Demolition was to begin a week ago, but the superintendent withheld the permit, pending the outcome of legislative action.

The bill approved Monday was drafted by Senate Republicans. It passed the Democratic-controlled Assembly, 89-42.

Jury Frees Three Accused in Ring Thefts at Latham

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Three men accused of the theft of $19,500 in diamond rings from a jewelry store in suburban Latham are free, cleared by an Albany County Court jury.

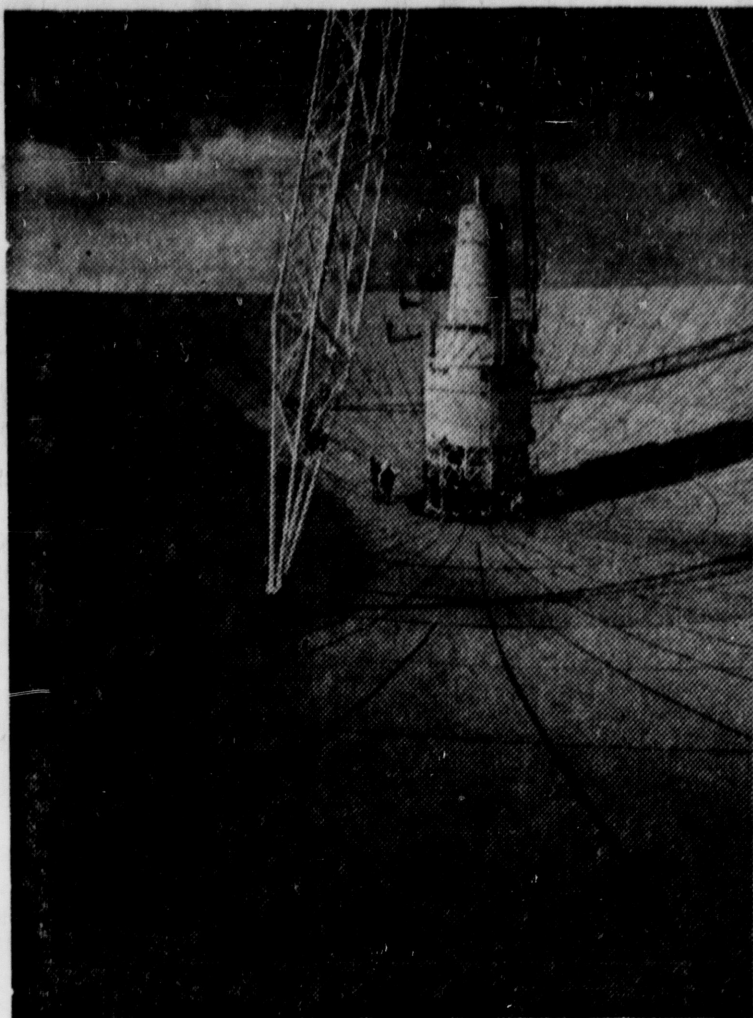

Charles H. Crawford, 32, and Robert L. Brunet, also 32, both of Albany, and Tindaro J. Alfano, 33, of Scottsdale, Ariz., were charged with first-degree grand larceny in the theft of 72 rings from Rudolph's Jewelry store Aug. 30.

The prosecution contended the trio entered the store and, while one of the men engaged a woman clerk in conversation, the rings were removed from a locked showcase.

The four-day trial, before a jury of nine men and three women, ended Monday night.

2 Services Air Money Complaint

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force says it will be unable to meet any emergencies outside Viet Nam under its proposed budget for fiscal 1967. And the Army says it may not have enough funds to carry out its operations the rest of this fiscal year.

Both services aired their money complaints to House subcommittees two months ago. Their testimony was released separately today.

Maj. Gen. Durward L. Crow, comptroller of the Air Force, told the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee March 16 that budget cuts imposed by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and the Bureau of the Budget will permit 100 per cent performance in Viet Nam, but not much elsewhere.

The general also said the cuts would mean the reduction of the airborne alert, which keeps a number of B52s aloft carrying nuclear weapons at all times.

Crow said the Air Force originally asked for $5.44 billion last October when budget estimates were submitted. The Defense Department and Budget Bureau lopped off $566 million, but restored $67.4 million after the Air Force complained. This left the total requested by President Johnson at $4.92 billion, he said.

Among the items cut over the Air Force's protest, Crow said, was the airborne alert.

On the Army side of the ledger, Maj. Gen. B.F. Taylor, director of the Army's budget, told a House Appropriations subcommittee he did not think both the regular and supplemental 1966 appropriations of more than $4.5 billion would be enough to carry Army operation and maintenance until June 30, the end of the 1966 fiscal year.

Taylor said he may have to ask McNamara for additional funds the defense secretary is authorized to transfer.

Taylor's comments came as he testified March 7 on the 1967 Army maintenance and operation budget request of more than $5 billion, some $580 million above last year's spending. He said the 1966 budget was $3.5 billion, with a supplemental appropriation of more than a billion dollars.

To Tour Winery

The Mid-Hudson Chapter of the National Association of Accountants will conduct a plant tour at Brotherhood Winery, Washingtonville on Wednesday at 3 p. m. The agenda consists of a tour of the plant, an accounting discussion and sampling at the Wine-Taster's Room. All members are urged to attend.

Cancer Crusade Exceeded Goal

The 1966 Cancer Crusade in the Town of Saugerties has exceeded its $3,000 goal by $160 with some canister returns still unaccounted, according to Mrs. Robert Mericle, town chairman.

More than 5,550 homes, numerous industries, businesses and professional offices have been contacted by the town's 140 Crusaders and 24 chairmen and captains.

The campaign brought in a total of $214 from the merchants and $415 from special gifts and industry. The breakdown from the various communities in the township follows:

Village $592.65; Barclay Heights $502; Mt. Marion $131; High Woods and Fish Creek $159; Malden $67; Glasco $133; Churchland $53; Veteran $45; West Camp $96; Pine Grove $64; Saxton $112; West Saugerties $116; Quarryville $40; Katsbaan $38; Asbury $101; Blue Mountain $146.

The total of $140 received from store canisters is expected to reach nearly $200 when all returns are counted.

Those who have been missed or those merchants and others, may still submit their contribution to Mrs. Mericle at 35 Edith Avenue.

"The results are very gratifying and I would be remiss if I did not publicly express my appreciation to all division chairmen, captains and workers for their extra effort in attaining this goal," Mrs. Mericle said.

Elect Officers At Final Meeting

The Sodality of Our Lady, of St. Mary of the Snow Church, Saugerties, held its final meeting of the year last week with Prefect Terri Nau presiding.

During an election of officers, the following new officers were named: Geraldine Martin, prefect; Nancy Buser, vice prefect; Winifred Cizmar, secretary and Millie Rosado, treasurer.

The moderator, Father Joseph F. Hamilton, thanked all those women who worked on the recent Catholic Charities Drive. He also suggested that the local group join all Sodalties in a joint spiritual bouquet for Francis Cardinal Spellman in honor of his 50th anniversary in the church. All members favored participation in such a move.

Father Hamilton also informed the organization of the closed circuit television which will send out its first signal this week and will be used in all Catholic schools for educational purposes.

Nancy Buser announced that the children's bazaar will be held May 26 and May 27 in the parish hall for all children of the school.

Members are reminded to call Mary Beckert or Betty Peters for tickets to the Communion Breakfast scheduled June 19.

Following last week's meeting, refreshments were served by the social committee.

Postpone Hose Test Planned by Firemen

The hose test planned for this week by C. A. Lynch Fire Company, Saugerties, has been postponed until Tuesday, May 24, at 6 p. m. All members are requested to meet at the firehouse on the night of the test.

The delay was caused due to the fact that the water department plans to flush all fire hydrants this week.

Captain Edward Haines of the local company has also requested members to enroll in the fire school slated Wednesday; says the course being offered should prove helpful to all.

Communion Breakfast

Saugerties Council, No. 4536, Knights of Columbus Fourth Degree will hold its annual Communion breakfast on Sunday, May 22. The guest speaker will be Harry Thayer, who will speak on "How to Live."

Makes Statement On Teachers' Day

Dr. Dexter O. Arnold, superintendent of Saugerties Central Schools, noting that May 17 has been proclaimed Teacher Recognition Day by Governor Nelson Rockefeller, made the following statement today:

"The role of the teacher in the world today cannot be over-emphasized. The effect of formal education upon youth is tremendous although all do not make the most of the opportunities. Actually, the amount of time spent in school during a calendar year is a smaller proportion of a youth's total time than most people realize. Many other factors contribute to his total education."

"In spite of this situation, the effect of one good teacher may be dominant in a person's life. Teachers may sometimes come to feel part of a production machine and lose their awareness of the importance of each word, each act upon a child. We need and should recognize the importance of the teacher who seeks to bring out the best in each pupil and who seeks to make himself a truly professional educator."

"It is appropriate that the importance of good teachers be recognized not only on May 17 but throughout the year, and that the public cooperate in every way possible to assist the teacher in his vital professional responsibility."

Set Safe Driver Program Tonight

The third session in a four-course program on "How To Drive To Stay Alive" will be held tonight 7:30 o'clock at Saugerties High School.

A safe driver's program, the course emphasizes advanced driving techniques for licensed drivers. It is sponsored by the Mid-Hudson Chapter, Driver and Safety Educators Association of New York State, in cooperation with the State Traffic Safety Council of New York.

Everyone is invited to attend and there is no admission charge. Featured on tonight's program will be a presentation of special skills needed to drive in the heavy traffic of the city, to be discussed by a driver education teacher.

Guest speaker will be Sgt. Gordon Keely, representing Saugerties Police Department, and a film City Driving, will be shown. A discussion or question and answer session will follow and the next and final session will be previewed.

The first two classes in the program were held May 3 and May 10 at the J. W. Bailey School, Kingston. The last two are being held tonight and May 24 at the Saugerties High School.

For further information on tonight's program, those interested may contact Village Justice David Goble.

Honor 4 Members Of STA Saturday

Four Saugerties teachers received awards and gifts at the annual banquet of Saugerties Teachers Association Saturday evening at Oehler's Mountain Lodge, Morgan Hill.

Honored by their colleagues at the affair were: Miss Elinor Lente, Mrs. Sylvia Kramer, Mrs. Ruth Teetsel and Louis Parisi. Miss Lente, who earlier this year won the coveted Golden Key Award in conjunction with her former pupil and Medal of Honor recipient, Captain Roger H. C. Donlon, was presented with a gift in recognition of this signal honor at Saturday's banquet.

To Mrs. Sylvia Kramer, Saugerties High School social studies teacher, went the 1966 Outstanding Young Educator Award, presented by Frank Antalek.

Notes of Interest

The annual banquet of Washington Hook and Ladder Auxiliary of Saugerties has been scheduled Thursday, June 2, at 7:30 p. m. at Ye Olde Quarrie House.

Members of St. Joseph-Glasco Altar Rosary Society are reminded of two upcoming events. The organization's annual Communion breakfast will be held Sunday, May 22, immediately following 8 a. m. Mass. The group's regular meeting is scheduled Tuesday, May 24, at 7:45 p. m.

Mrs. Jennie McCarthy, of Russell Street, Saugerties, is currently a patient at Benedictine Hospital, Kingston.

Supervisor and Mrs. Peter Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Vackevick, Mr. and Mrs. John Lowther, Mrs. Catherine Van Glascock and Lyman Hallenbeck, members of Lamourack Hackett Post No. 72, American Legion and its Auxiliary, attended the testimonial dinner and dance honoring the Past County Commander of the Ulster County American Legion, Department of New York. The affair was held last Saturday at the Legion Hall, Port Ewen, and was hosted by Post No. 1298, Town of Esopus.

Fire Chief Duncan Wilson had high praise for the volunteer firemen who put in a number of hours in the search for Linda Cousins, 17, of Glasco Turnpike, and Mark Rodriguez, 16, of John Carle Road, High Woods, who were found shortly before noon Monday after they became lost Sunday in the attempted mountain climb.

Rodriguez and Miss Cousins were taken to the Overlook fire tower after being located by William Huty and Bruce Besler, members of a search party, and later returned home.

Senate Expected To Approve $25 Limit on Books

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Senate is expected to add its approval to a bill that would limit to $25 per pupil the amount that a school district would have to spend on free textbooks in public and private schools in the coming school year.

The Democratic-controlled Assembly endorsed the measure 135-19, Monday after a long debate that harked back to a year ago when the original "free textbook" law was passed.

Assures Passage

Later, Senate Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges, the Legislature's top Republican, told the Associated Press:

"I believe that bill can be passed in the Senate. I think it has support."

Brydges' backing virtually assures Senate approval.

The $25 limit for the coming school year would be the amount that a local school district could be compelled to pay for textbooks for pupils in grades seven through 12, both in public and private schools.

The state would be required to repay the entire $25 per pupil to the local school district.

If a district chose to spend more, it could do so, but the state would not reimburse the district for the additional money.

$15.5 Million Cost

The minimum cost to the state was estimated at $15.5 million for the coming year.

The bill would lower the maximum amount that local districts pupil in the 1967-68 school year and thereafter.

Its sponsor, Assemblyman Joseph St. Lawrence, D - Suffern, explained that the theory was that local districts would have accumulated enough textbooks to permit the reduction in spending without any drop in textbook supply.

St. Lawrence pleaded for passage on the ground that the measure was necessary to clarify last year's law. That legislation, he said, merely set a $10 limit on the amount that the state would repay but did not set a maximum on the amount a district could be compelled to spend.

Opponents argued that the original law was unconstitutional because it violated traditional separation of church and state.

by providing the state funds to purchase books for both public and private school pupils.

In addition, Assemblyman Albert Blumenthal, D-Manhattan, said that under the previous $10 maximum reimbursement, the estimated cost was $3 million.

"The cost is now five times that amount," he said. He charged the measure was a "gigantic second step forward in state support of parochial schools."

Other Action

Assemblyman George Michaels, D - Auburn, argued, however, that the bill was needed to prevent local school boards from being swamped under "an enormous budget as they try and keep up with demands for textbooks."

The textbook debate was one of the features on Capitol Hill Monday as both houses worked through heavy schedules and took action that included:

LIBRARIES — The Assembly approved and sent to the Senate a bill that would increase state aid to libraries by $2.8 million a year. It would increase aid from 30 cents to 40 cents per resident in the area served by the library. It also would boost other types of aid.

MOONLIGHTING — The Assembly gave final legislative approval to a measure that would permit policemen to work at outside jobs. A policeman's superior would have the final say on the job. Present law forbids such off-duty employment, known as "moonlighting." The law has been widely ignored, however.

UNEMPLOYMENT — A measure that would permit a person to collect unemployment after working 15 weeks in a year gained Assembly approval. Present law calls for 20 weeks employment a year before an applicant is eligible. The bill was passed, 113-40, with Republicans voting against it. It was sent to the Senate.

PRESCRIPTIONS — The Senate passed and sent to the Assembly a bill that would allow doctors to give oral prescriptions to druggists for stimulant or depressant drugs. A written prescription would be required within 72 hours.

DOMESTICS — The Senate gave final legislative approval to a measure that would give domestic workers under coverage of the workmen's compensation law.

HOUSING — The Assembly passed, despite Republican objections, a bill that would allow local governments to borrow for public housing projects on the basis of the full value of real property, rather than assessed valuation.

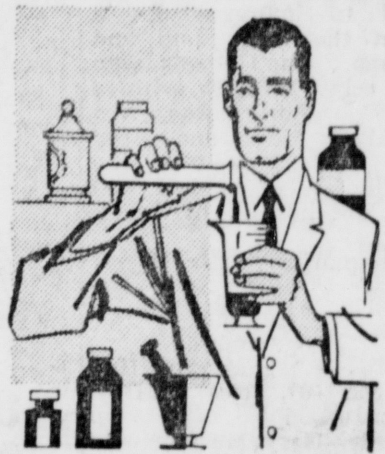

The limit would remain at two per cent, but Republicans argued that that changing the level to include full value would greatly increase the borrowing power.

The measure was sent to the Senate. Both houses approved it last year as a first act in changing the constitutional limit on borrowing. If the Senate approves it again this year, the measure would be submitted to the voters in November.

Onteora Track Squad Rips Red Hook, 86-47

Using only half the regulars, Onteora Central High's track squad captured 12 of 14 events to rout Red Hook Central, 86-47, in a dual meet for their sixth win in seven decisions.

Because of two meets this week, plus the UCAL meet Saturday at New Paltz, the athletes were limited to only two appearances.

Gary Murphy breezed home a double winner in the 100 and 220 over teammate Bob Van Keuren. He ran the century in 10.4 and the 220 in 24.3 seconds.

Sophomore Fred Middleton continued to impress with a double in the long jump and triple jump. The Indians won the 880 relay in 1:41 with a team of Bob Van Keuren, Wes Kissel, Mark Hoyt and Fred Wagner. Red Hook took the mile medley relay in 4:07 and the 180 yard hurdles by Larry Burd.

The summaries:

180 yard hurdles — Larry Burd (RH); Gardner (RH), Kissel (O), 22.8 seconds.

100 Yards — Gary Murphy (O), Van Keuren (O), Ross (RH) — 10.4.

220 Yards — Gary Murphy (O), Van Keuren (O), Smith (RH) — 24.3 seconds.

440 Yards — Clark Van Eiten (O), Cole (RH), Buckley (RH) — 2:18.

Mile Run — Homer Miller (O), Schultz (RH), Hagen (RH) — 5:08.

Rios Pitches Six Innings; NFA Bows, 10-9

Gene Rios hurled six brilliant innings and Kingston High scored single runs in the third and sixth innings to defeat Port Jervis, 2-0, in a DUSO contest yesterday at the losers' diamond.

In another circuit test, Middletown upset Newburgh's defending champions, 10-9, leaving coach Mike Rienzo's local nine as the only unbeaten team in the conference.

Standings:

Middletown	1	3

Kingston entertains Newburgh Wednesday and Middletown Friday at Dietz Stadium. If the Maroon players win both games, they will clinch the championship.

Two Infield Hits
Rios allowed only two infield hits during his six innings on the mound. He walked two and struck out 11. Brian Bach, warming up for his Thursday assignment, pitched the seventh and he fanned two of three batters.

The KHS nine, which is now 10-1 for the season, broke a scoreless deadlock in the third on Gary VanEtten's single, a sacrifice and a two-base error.

GENE RIOS

Bill Dugan stroked his third straight single in the sixth. Greg Rios followed with a hit and then losing chucker Bill McCooey walked Gene and VanEtten, forcing in the final run. This action came after the first two batters had been retired.

Port had two minor threats against Rios, putting a runner on second both times. However, the fireballing lefty was equal to the occasion.

Third baseman Pete Watzka made a glittering play to record the final out of the game.

Buytkins Hits .559 To Pace UCCC Batting

Paul (Boots) Buytkins, one of the top athletes in the history of Saugerties High, batted a rousing .559 to pace the Ulster Community College baseball team.

Buytkins had 19 hits in 34 trips to the dish, including five doubles, a triple and 14 runs-batted-in. He was only fanned once in nine games.

Final statistics, as released by coach Al DiBernardo, show that Ken Heppner was the pitching leader. He won four games and didn't lose. In addition, Heppner allowed only three earned runs in 27 innings.

Ulster, which won six and lost three, had a team batting average of .285 and fielded a respectable .923.

Rare Golf Win Is Van Aken Goal

By CHARLES J. TIANO
(Freeman Sports Editor)

Can the club champion win a match play tournament at 100 per cent handicap?

The odds are heavily against it, but Woodstock Country Club's perennial kingpin, Bill Van Aken, is giving it the big try in the current Spring Handicap match play tournament.

He has survived first and second round matches despite giving away 20 handicap strokes to a couple of worthy opponents. But it took even par golf, 71-69-140, to accomplish the feat. He gave veteran Ted King 13 strokes and whipped 4 and 3 in a first round match.

Against a rugged opponent like Dave Halpert, the champion had to pull out all the stops to eke out a 1-up victory despite a one-under-par 69. Van Aken was 4-under-par after 15 holes then bogied the last three to outlast the Saugerties jeweler, who was playing with 7 handicap strokes.

Van Aken's third round opponent will be Bob Frederickson, a hot and cold player, who could give Van plenty of trouble with 7 strokes.

Several big names fell by the wayside in first round action, among them Floyd H. DeWitt, Walter S. Van Wagenen and Joe Modica, Joseph (Buzzy) Fitzsimmons emerged as the early Giant Killer with a 1-up win over Van Wagenen and a 4 and 2 nod over Dr. Grant Morse, the retired educator, who had retired DeWitt in the first round, 2 and 1.

The summaries:

Issue Tornado Watch for Area Of Six States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thunderstorms, with rain, hail and strong winds, swept areas along a squall line from southeastern Nebraska across eastern Kansas and northeastern Oklahoma today.

The Weather Bureau issued tornado or severe thunderstorm watches for a six-state area from Arkansas to Iowa. The tornado watch included southwestern Missouri and adjacent sections of Kansas, Oklahoma and Arkansas. The severe thunderstorm watch included northwestern and north-central Missouri and nearby areas of Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa.

The Weather Bureau reported tornadoes touched down at Tonkawa in north-central Oklahoma and near Wellington in south-central Kansas Monday night but there were no reports of injuries or property damage. Several funnel clouds were sighted in eastern Kansas and northeastern Oklahoma.

Stormy weather diminished in the Southeast after tornado winds and heavy rain pounded Columbus in west-central Georgia, injuring 10 persons and causing heavy property damage. Scores of buildings, including the Muscogee County courthouse, were damaged. One woman was injured at Phenix City, Ala. None of the injured was reported in serious condition.

Heavy rain fell Monday along the central Gulf Coast and extended into Georgia. A tornado struck near Milton, about 20 miles northeast of Pensacola, Fla., damaging several homes.

Study Proposal To Reactivate Mothball Fleet

WASHINGTON (AP) — One or more of the four battleships now in the Navy's mothball fleet — including the famed Missouri — may be reactivated for Viet Nam duty, testimony made public by a House subcommittee indicated today.

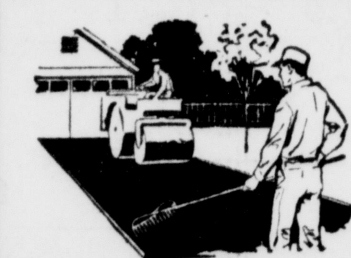

"We have been considering it," Vice Adm. Lot Ensey testified. "It would have advantages. No question."

Ensey, deputy chief of naval operations, testified at a closed session of a House Appropriations subcommittee March 10. Ten days earlier at a Senate committee hearing, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was questioned along similar lines.

McNamara said then that the cost of returning the vessels to service had been considered more than a year ago against costs for alternate forms of firepower — "and frankly the battleship didn't look attractive then."

But Ensey's later testimony indicated that the Navy, at least, has not written off the idea of bringing the 16-inch guns of the battleship to bear on Southeast Asia targets.

Names in The News

Meredith to Run

NEW YORK (AP) — James H. Meredith, the first known Negro to break the color barrier at the University of Mississippi, has tossed his hat into New York City's political arena.

Meredith said Monday night he plans to run in Harlem as an insurgent Democratic candidate seeking a seat as a delegate at next April's state constitutional convention.

Meredith, 33, now a student at Columbia University's Law School, will be one of three candidates running against a slate backed by Rep. Adam Clayton Powell.

Aptheker Joins Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Communist Herbert Aptheker, whose passport was lifted recently by the State Department because he went to Hanoi, now wants to go to Washington as a congressman from New York City.

Aptheker, 50, announced Monday that he will run for Congress in Brooklyn's 12th District on a platform calling for "an end to war, racism and McCarthyism."

Corinne Wants Loot

LOS ANGELES (AP) — French-born actress Corinne Calvet contends in Los Angeles that she should be allowed to keep $678,000 in gifts from investment fortune heir Donald Scott.

Scott, 35, sued Miss Calvet demanding that she return the gifts and that he be awarded $200,000 in damages. His suit stated that he had given her the gifts to prevent her from telling his wife about their relationship.

May Run Wife

JACKSON, Tenn. (AP) — The Rev. Dr. Wayne Dehoney, who is prohibited by constitutional provisions from succeeding himself as president of the Southern Baptist Convention says he has a successor in mind.

"I am contemplating running my wife," Dr. Dehoney said jokingly in Jackson, Tenn. But he admitted her chances of election would be slight.

A new president of the 11-million member denomination will be picked at the annual convention in Detroit May 24-27.

Bids Sought For Paltz Work

Governor Rockefeller announced today that bids are being accepted by the State University Construction Fund on a contract valued at $57,000 for the air conditioning of Parker dining hall on the campus of the State University College, New Paltz.

Bids will be opened in the Construction Fund's offices in Albany on Wednesday, June 1, an all work on this contract is expected to be completed by August.

Another Schedectady Fire

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP) — Fire of undetermined origin caused extensive damage today to a three-story, brick building occupied by Ras Furniture and Gifts.

The building is at 823 Eastern Ave., near downtown Schenectady.

Viet Nam At-A-Glance

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Saigon — A Buddhist leader says monks will lay down their lives to force Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military regime to call off crackdown in the North. Labor chiefs call off strike in Saigon but terrorists kill 3 Vietnamese and injure 37 others, including 3 Americans.

U.S. 1st Air Cavalry sends reinforcements into battle with some 350 North Vietnamese near central coast after cavalrymen killed 28 Reds and take moderately casualties. Rains sharply reduce U.S. air attacks against North Viet Nam but B52s hit Communist area near Cambodian border for third straight day.

Hue — Vietnamese officer fires at helicopter carrying new Vietnamese 1st Corps chief and U.S. Marine chief of staff in Viet Nam on peace mission to rebel officers. Helicopter damaged slightly and American gunner aboard returns the fire, kills the officer and wounds six Vietnamese soldiers.

Da Nang — Government marines move eastward to extend control of antigovernment stronghold but are confronted by strong rebel forces.

Washington — Johnson administration decides to back strong military role in future Vietnamese government but without personal endorsement of Premier Ky. Ambassador Lodge winds up his stay in Washington.

Navy says it may reactivate one or more of four big battleships now in mothballs — including USS Missouri — for Viet Nam duty.

Inventories Higher

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department reports manufacturing inventories, an indicator watched closely by economists for signs of inflationary pressure, took their biggest jump in three months during March.

The department said manufacturing inventories recorded a $640 million increase in March to a seasonally adjusted level of $69.68 billion. There also was a $120 million increase in retail inventories during the month.

During the January-March quarter, the department said Monday, manufacturing inventories increased by $1.67 billion while retailers' stock rose about $600 million on a seasonally adjusted basis.

Both quarterly rates were at a slower pace than the fourth quarter of 1965.

Moyers Hurt in Fall

BETHESDA, Md. (AP) — Bill D. Moyers, President Johnson's press secretary, was admitted Monday night to Bethesda Naval Hospital for observation after falling down a set of stairs at the White House.

A hospital spokesman said Moyers' condition was "not serious" and said he probably would be released later today.

Banquet Slated By Supervisors' Assn. June 22

The Ulster County Supervisors Association, which once listed among its membership all members of the board and practically all ex-supervisors, has been "re-activated" by a committee named by Charles Relvea, chairman of the board, and plans have been made to hold an annual banquet. The date of the banquet has been set for June 22 at 7 p. m. at the Villa Neuva, Plattekill.

Supervisor Clarence C. Raichle, 12th ward supervisor, was named temporary chairman of the committee for the reorganization. A meeting of the committee was held May 12 at the County Office Building prior to the regular meeting of the board of supervisors.

At that time Chairman Raichle appointed Thaddeus Musialkiewicz of Ulster as secretary; Michael Canzoza of Marlboro as treasurer. A committee on by-laws was named with Supervisor George Majestic of Gardiner as chairman and Supervisor Joseph Martorana of Plattekill. The dinner committee includes Supervisors Martorana, chairman, and Supervisor Majestic and First Ward Supervisor James Rapp. Publicity committee is Sup. Musialkiewicz of Ulster and Wendell Scherer, 9th Ward supervisor. Ticket Committee for the dinner is Supervisor Canzoza, chairman and Supervisors Franklin S. Kelder of Rochester, Majestic and Irving Bell, 6th Ward.

At the May 12 meeting Chairman Raichle recommended that each supervisor now serving invite all ex-supervisors of his town or ward to become a member of the association and the names of all ex-members of the board will be submitted to Robert A. Snyder, clerk of the board, before the end of May and letters will be sent informing them of the banquet in June.

Supervisor Martorana, named to secure a place for the banquet, has made all arrangements with Villa Neuva at Plattekill.

Chairman Raichle reported that from present indications there will be between 400 and 500 members of the association in attendance.

All ex-supervisors are eligible for membership.

Fire Destroyed Claremont Hotel Near Ellenville

Fire early today destroyed the Claremont Hotel on Briggs Highway between Ellenville and Woodbourne in Sullivan County. The building was unoccupied at the time.

Ellenville fire fighters under Chief George Damms responded to the alarm about 5:30 a. m., along with the Woodbourne volunteers. Chief Damms said that the blaze leveled a large hotel building and adjacent structure at the site.

Cause of the fire was under investigation by State Police from the Ellenville substation and other officials. About 30 Ellenville firemen, who responded in the intercounty alarm, returned to service about 6:30 a. m.

In other alarms reported Monday by Ulster County Mutual Aid dispatchers, Walker Valley, Woodstock, Zena and Modena responded to brush fires; Wallkill answered a call to a tractor and gas tank fire; Modena and Ellenville responded to grass fires, and Woodstock was summoned to a house blaze. The Woodstock house blaze, reported shortly after 8 Monday night, resulted in minor damage to property owned by Florence Matteson on Route 219, Tinker Road, Woodstock. Fire Chief Duncan Wilson said that the fire was in an overheated stove pipe in an oil heater.

Experience — What's It Worth?

Plenty—especially if you're talking roofing or siding. Smith Parish customers can attest to this fact even as far back as 1932 when the business started. There are no "short cuts" at Smith Parish—just first rate quality work, done by men who take pride in their profession and whose years experience total 400.

You might buy a cheaper roof than Smith Parish but you can't buy a better one.
